THE UNION

VOL. XXII.—NO. 6616. PORTLAND, OREGON: TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1882. PRICE—TEN CENTS.

GENERAL NEWS.

Thurlow Weed's Scheme for Correcting the Evils of Intemperance.

MRS. SCOVILLE MAKES A FINAL ATTEMPT AT NOTORIETY.

The question of Irrigation by Government of Colorado Deserts brought up. Cameron's Policy in Pennsylvania.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, July 10.—The Sun publishes a story that the well known building called Cooper Union is full of cracks and in danger of falling. A new story has been lately added to the structure, and carelessness is hinted at.

A Times editorial says: "Certain fly gabblers in Washington have given circulation to the story that Don Cameron and his men are seriously considering a proposition to sell their candidate for governor of Pennsylvania thirty thousand votes. The votes are to be given to Beaver by the land leaguers of Pennsylvania, and the price to be paid is the recall of Minister Lowell."

The Sun prints in bold faced letters the ten democrats who voted for the naval appropriation bill. Among them is Cassidy of Nevada. The Sun says they are not to be trusted, and at the next election should be left.

A World correspondent says a meeting of republicans was held Saturday at Camden, N. J., to protest against the renomination of Robeson to congress. It is thought the meeting will predispose Robeson to forego a contest.

World's Washington: "As a sign of coming adjournment, I may tell you a hunting party for the Yellowstone country is getting up by Bayard and Perry Belmont, who are going off as soon as congress rises to join Lieutenant Commander Gorringe for a six weeks stroll in that magnificent region. If more of our legislators would imitate the sensible example we should have more and better work done during the sessions."

A French Victory.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The French geographical society in a few days will fete M. Savergnan de Brazza, the Frenchman who has stolen a march on Stanley and made the Congo virtually a French river. But for one thing it would be the finest water way in nature. Just before it reaches the sea it breaks into dangerous cataracts which render all direct approach from the coast impossible. The Belgian association which fitted out Stanley's expedition, have endeavored to find a way to overcome this difficulty. The river begins to be navigable at Stanley pool. To reach this Stanley proposed to cut a road from the seaside by the cataracts into the pool and $1,000,000 was subscribed for the purpose. Stanley cut the road and transported a steamer only to find fifty vessels flying the French flag in possession. M. Savergnan Brazza found a shorter way to the pool. He went up the river Agnovne and found it separated by only eighty kilometres from the Alima which flows right into the pool while Stanley's roadway from the coast was 240 kilometres long. De Brazza came back to France obtained a vote in aid by the government, went out again and made such good use of his time that long before Stanley arrived he had seized the pool in the name of the French, concluded treaties with natives and bought large possessions on the banks of the river. Thus France taps the Congo route and secures an outlet and inlet to what may one day become one of the richest trades in the world.

Thurlow Weed's Remedy for Intemperance.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Thurlow Weed in a letter to the Tribune predicts the failure of the recent radical measures in Kansas and Iowa to stop intemperance. He thinks when we become a grape growing country like France or Switzerland the practical remedy for intemperance will soon be reached. When grapes, says he, are produced in sufficient quantities to furnish cheap wine as a beverage for all classes it will be within the scope and duty of congress to perfect a reform that will emancipate the people from the horrors of intemperance. This reform is to be accomplished by furnishing wine abundantly and cheaply while by legislation whisky, rum, brandy, etc. are made so dear as to be out of reach of the laboring classes. He thinks California, Kansas and other states with a soil adapted to grape culture had better turn their attention to wine making.

The Irrigation Question.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Tribune editorial: "The possibility of reclaiming for cultivation a vast area of land on this side of the Rocky mountains becomes a question of greater interest every year as our fertile acres are rapidly being taken up. The latest information on the subject is not encouraging. A commission was sent out last summer under act of congress to examine this country to see if it would be possible to irrigate it by means of artesian wells. The commission do not speak with confidence of the prospect of supplying water in great quantities anywhere in the region of Colorado which they examined. They recommend however that trial wells shall be sunk in the most promising places. The experiment will be watched with interest."

Rather Late to Begin Proceedings.

CHICAGO, July 10.—An open letter from Mrs. Scoville to Rev. Dr. Hicks, spiritual adviser of Guiteau in his last hours, will be published here to-morrow. She claims the autopsy shows her brother was insane and asserts she will begin legal proceedings to get possession of his body willed by him to Dr. Hicks.

A Protest Made.

DAYTON, O., July 9.—A protest has been prepared to congress by inmates of the soldiers' home against the bill providing that any in excess of $5 per month of pensions shall be applied to the support of the home.

An Outrage.

DAYTON, Ohio, July 10.—The Soldier's Home protest among other things, shows that 5000 men are now at the central branch and 1500 pensioners, and the bill if passed will compel fifteen hundred limbless, sightless, physically wretched veterans to sustain the remaining thirty five hundred who are able and in most cases do work. All work of the institution is done by those men who receive pay while according to the proposed bill their more unfortunate comrades will pay their maintenance.

Will Resign his Pastorate.

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—Rev. Geo. A. Lofton, pastor Third Baptist church, whose erratic condition on a train recently occasioned so much scandal, has resigned his pastorate. He will preach a farewell sermon next Sunday. He will also leave the ministry and it is intimated will go into business here.

Failures.

CHICAGO, July 10.—D. C. Fisk's carriage company have made a voluntary assignment at Racine, Wis. Liabilities $50,000, assets nearly $40,000.

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—Peckham & Co.'s iron company, Chas. Greeley president, has failed for $132,000, all hypothecated. Liabilities estimated at a larger figure.

C. H. Albro, commission merchant, has failed; was short on grain.

Money Shut Off.

MILWAUKEE, July 10.—The treasurer of the international cigar makers union who has been keeping strikers in funds has refused to do so longer. This is likely to produce a war inside the union. Charges are made against the union of misappropriation and on the other hand it is held the flow of money from the east will shortly be resumed. Developments are awaited with interest.

Death of Captain McConkey.

COLUMBUS, O., July 10.—Capt. J. M. McConkey, representative in the legislature for Clark county for the term of 1880-81, died at Springfield to-day after a week's illness.

Tramps Killed.

VINCENNES, Ind., July 10.—Two men stealing a ride near Parnell station were killed by a collision between two freight trains, and a third victim is expected to die.

Cleveland's Population.

CLEVELAND, July 10.—Advance sheets of the new directory on a basis of three and a half persons to each name gives Cleveland a population of 210,000.

Three More Bodies Recovered.

MINGO JUNCTION, July 10.—Three more bodies were found this morning. A boy by the name of Sloan, from Cleveland, is missing.

Burned Alive.

COOPERSVILLE, Miss., July 10.—A fire here destroyed the house of E. Lilly, and two children aged 4 and 6 were burned alive.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

A Cruel Murder.

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—Post Dispatch special from Shreveport, La.: In Webster parish, McTaylor, colored, 12 years old, severely beat a white boy named McDonald and fled to Arkansas. Some days ago McDonald's father, assisted by J. Pickett and John Atwood, pursued, captured and brought McTaylor back. They tied him to a tree and shot him to death. The body was found yesterday, the bones being picked bare by vultures. The assassins will be arrested.

Deadly Work.

STATESVILLE, N. C., July 10.—Mont Robbins, son of William M. Robbins, who was violently assaulted by M. L. Mott on Saturday, went to Mount Mourne where Mott was to avenge his father. The two men drew pistols. Mott fired first and shot Robbins in the mouth and Robbins then fired, shooting Mott in the breast and killing him.

Wholesale Killing.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Sevier county, Arkansas, was the scene of a tragedy recently which resulted in the death of a guest at the hands of George and W. McCraven, they killing him for his money. In arresting the murderers Constable Hetherly was accidentally killed by one of the arresting parties and George McCraven shot dead by a deputy.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

Several counterfeiters, members of a gang operating in northern Arkansas, have been arrested at West Plains, Mo. U. S. authorities have nearly the whole gang in prison at Fort Smith, Arkansas. Trial be had shortly.

Prisoners Escaped.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 10.—A Chicago crook named Howard knocked the jailer down this morning, took the keys away from him and with eight others escaped and only one has been recaptured.

TELEGRAPHIC SPARKS.

The strike at Clearfield, Pa., has virtually ended.

O. R. & N. Co.'s stock sold in New York yesterday at 148.

Five men were drowned at Muskegon, Mich., on the 10th inst., by the capsizing of a small boat.

MEXICO.

Smallpox in Mexico.

TUCSON, July 10.—Star's Mexican advices: Black smallpox is raging at Mazatlan. Hermosillo and Guaymas are quarantining against it. Fifty deaths have occurred in Mazatlan.

Miss Pacheco, daughter of the California congressman, carries the medal given to the best lawn tennis player in Washington.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—A young man named Andrew Howard, aged 27 years, committed suicide to-day at 908 Lyon street, at a lodging house, by shooting himself in the right temple with a pistol. Deceased was formerly a street-car conductor. On the 4th of July he was discharged from employ of the company. He claims to have followed a young lady from the east with whom he recently had a quarrel. Since the 4th Howard had been drinking heavily and had threatened to commit suicide. So far as known, deceased has no relatives in this state.

San Francisco Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Steamer Gaelic is due here from Hongkong and her arrival is hourly expected. She brings a cargo of coolies.

Killed by a Chinaman.

FRESNO, July 10.—Last Friday evening at Visalia, Mr. Bolloroh and son got into a quarrel with some Chinamen and during it a Chinaman drew a pistol and shot the father through the heart, killing him instantly. The son, it is supposed, stabbed the Chinaman to death.

New Zealand and Australian News.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Arrived, steamer Zealandia, from Sydney, via Auckland, etc.

WELLINGTON, June 17.—The address in reply to the governor's speech was carried in both houses of parliament, and loyal addresses to the queen, expressing gratification at her escape from the assassin, were adopted by both houses.

The west coast peace preservation bill, rendering the trial of Te Whiti John unnecessary and preventing the return of Parikaka, were read secondly.

The house of representatives officially announced that the governor has received six months leave of absence. It is understood that he departs shortly.

Imports of New Zealand for 1881 £7,457,045; exports, £6,060,866.

MELBOURNE, June 15.—The budget of proposals of the government has been much criticised, especially the proposed remission of taxation.

Francis, in behalf of the constitutional party, moved yesternight that remission is inconvenient and undesirable in view of the improbability of a surplus, and in view of the fact that a royal commission is now investigating the tariff. Francis stated that the resolution was not intended as a vote of want of confidence, but considered the estimate sanguine.

O'Loughlen moved moved adjournment of house. It is not yet known whether government will accept the resolution in a friendly or hostile spirit.

Addresses to the Irish people prepared by the Grattan centenary committee and signed by members of the assembly contained language which has been characterized as seditious and treasonable.

Assembly passed a resolution on motion of Francis condemning action of signatories and expressing unswerving loyalty to maintenance of a united empire. The governor has telegraphed Kimberley the above resolution.

Harper, conservative, is elected in place of Robert Ramsay.

Archibald Forbes has had a successful lecturing tour.

A small quantity of rain has fallen, but is still insufficient.

SYDNEY, June 13.—New South Wales railways last year paid five and one-third centum upon capital invested.

Prince Alfred hospital, building of considerable size, was opened on Duke of Edinburgh's birthday.

Government is spending £6000 in improvement and extensions of the country residence for the governor at Moss Vale.

Law courts are now engaged in settling the value of land at Pyrmont recently resumed by government. Owners of property are claiming excessive compensation. Thos. Garrett claimed £20,000 and jury awarded £8700. One firm claims £168,000 and government offer £88,000. The case is now proceeding.

Late heavy rains have greatly improved herbage of the country districts. Stock is consequently improving. The maize crop is satisfactory and others light, but good prices are obtained.

BRISBANE, June 12.—The railway from Brisbane to Logan river was shortly commenced. Government has resolved to engage an experienced traffic manager in London. Tramways with steam motors are preparing.

The city savings banks returns last month show an increase of £10,000.

An armed party visited Melville island recently, north of Palmerston, inhabited only by fierce blacks. Thousands of buffaloes were seen and numerous umbrageous trees. The soil is highly spoken of.

Hawaiian Matters.

HONOLULU, July 3.—The legislature is in session. The Gibson ministry continue to carry their measures by large majorities. The proposed measure of organizing an armed force or mounted constabulary for protection of plantations meets with general approval among property holders.

UTAH.

Killed by a Runaway Team.

OGDEN, July 10.—Two horses attached to a job wagon ran away this noon, and while going down Fifth street at a terrible pace ran into a little girl of 4 years, daughter of J. H. Nichols. The wheels of the wagon struck the child on the head, killing her instantly.

Killed by a Woman.

CHICAGO, July 10.—At 8 o'clock this morning Chas. S. Stiller, for many years caller on the call board and a well known man in the board of trade circles, was shot over the heart and instantly killed by a young woman of doubtful reputation.

ARIZONA.

Indian Depredations in Arizona.

TUCSON, July 10.—A Citizen special from Camp Thomas says reports from McMillan via Globe states that on the 7th inst. about 40 Indians attacked the town, but were repulsed by citizens who had been warned and were waiting for them. The fight lasted half an hour, during which Indians tried to set fire to several buildings without success. One white man was injured. Indian casualties unknown. The Indians retreated in the direction of Pleasant valley and Salt river, driving off all the stock they could find. Fifteen men left Globe yesterday to warn and help protect citizens in Pleasant valley. Four companies of third cavalry started from here yesterday in pursuit of the hostiles. These Indians are all renegades who killed Colvig, reinforced by about 20 others belonging to the White Mountain band in the vicinity of San Carlos.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Walla Walla Election.

WALLA WALLA, July 10.—A very close city election to-day. James McAuliff was re-elected mayor and John G. Justice re-elected marshal. After a very spirited contest Councilmen Winans, Cohen, Dovell and Fletcher were elected.

Passenger List.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., July 10.—The steamer Geo. W. Elder sailed for San Francisco via Victoria last night with 400 tons of freight and the following passengers: Mrs. H. C. Rajmund, G. H. Ritter, F. S. Grimshaw, E. A. Whitney, A. M. Byrne, Mrs. F. Hall, R. McCune, T. B. Morris, Wm. Hammer, Mrs. W. E. Saunders and child, D. Hampton and wife, H. G. Weir, Mrs. O. S. Willey and 28 in the steerage.

Seattle Election.

SEATTLE, July 10.—The city election held to-day resulted in the choice of H. G. Struve as mayor, J. H. Woolery as marshal, and S. M. Rubin, O. F. Cosgrove, Chas. McDonald, John Collins, Frank Hanford, O. F. Carter and G. L. Manning as councilmen. The whole vote cast numbered 1100. A tax paying qualification was rigidly insisted upon by the judges, diminishing by several hundred the vote anticipated.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Thrown Into the River.

THE DALLES, July 10.—One flat and three box cars loaded with freight were thrown into the river this forenoon by a land slide one mile west of Mosier's. The train was on the road up from Bonneville.

If he cannot do this, he will immediately proceed to a watering place. In spite of his illness, the chancellor continues daily to work as much as possible with his second son, Count William.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Report of Secretary Folger on the Counterfeit Bond Plate.

THE SKELETON OF GUITEAU BEING BLEACHED FOR ARTICULATION.

Dr. Hicks makes a Statement concerning the Autopsy on Guiteau—Congressional and Political Notes.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Secretary Folger in his report on the Doyle counterfeit bond plate, after describing the method of checking off bonds when paid, says though all these bonds have been redeemed except $278,000 of that issue, never have two bonds of the same number been offered. It is also a fact that there never has been offered for redemption a bond with a number higher than, or different from the same genuine number recorded in the book. The existence of the counterfeit Doyle bonds was not known to any branch of this department until in October, 1880, when Doyle was arrested in Chicago and the spurious bonds found in his possession. It afterwards appeared that three of the spurious bonds had been before that pledged as collateral with a bank in Peoria, Illinois. There were then taken from him in all 204 of the spurious bonds with one thirty dollar coupon attached to each bond, and 14 detached coupons of the same kind and denomination. Three bonds that had been thus pledged were afterwards surrendered to officers of the secret service of the government, making in all 207 bonds. It has been stated in public prints that $2,000,000 in nominal amount of spurious bonds were struck off by counterfeiters and that many of them had been put in circulation. Surely if that amount of bonds or a tithe of it had been placed in the hands of innocent holders long ago some bonds would have been offered for redemption. It is thought to be certain the story is baseless of the large amount printed and put in circulation and also that which stated that more than 204 spurious bonds were found on Doyle and by act or connivance of some officer or officers of secret service some of the excess over that number had been sent afloat. Premising that the 204 found on Doyle and the three pledged with the Illinois bank and coupons attached to them, and the fourteen detached coupons, are now in custody of officers of government and by actual count lately made are shown to be these, it is further said the belief that no more exists than as above stated rests upon official reports of officers of secret service made on official oath and upon investigation lately had. A special agent of the treasury and a detective from the assistant treasurer's office at New York, neither of them in any wise connected with the secret service of the government and acting without the knowledge of that service, were detailed to ferret out the matter. They have reported to this department that nothing has yet been found to give color of truth to the rumor. It is almost certain no more were ever in possession of Doyle than 207. Quite as important a matter is the statement that the plate from which the spurious bonds were struck was either itself genuine or was reproduced from genuine dies and work and that means of doing so were furnished from within the department. I am thoroughly satisfied these allegations are entirely unfounded. Doyle was brought to trial the second time at Chicago the 2d day of May last. Shortly after Samuel M. Felker, a private detective in that city, came to the department and declared he was here in behalf of Doyle to get for him immunity from punishment. The consideration he offered therefor was surrender of the plate from which the spurious bonds were struck, and proof that it was genuine work from which the real government bonds were struck, or that it was produced by the use of that genuine work and that the genuine work or use was had by complicity of officers or employes of the government. I have no reason to suppose Felker not sincere in his offer or in his belief of facts which he approved. This department declined to interfere for postponement of Doyle's trial and meantime Doyle had been tried and convicted. Felker did put the plate into possession of this department and promise was given him effort would be made to get suspension of sentence upon Doyle and assurance of clemency if through his means it should be proven the matter from which the spurious bonds were produced were procured from officials or subordinate employes of the United States, or otherwise wrongfully obtained from within the department, the purpose being to punish any department officials if proven guilty of the same. Nothing has been shown this department tending to prove that any official or employee of the government had anything to do with the production of spurious bonds or of plates, dies or any part thereof, or from which spurious bonds were struck. The most that has been learned is that the plan or parts of it were furnished to Brockway and Spencer by Charles H. Smith, an engraver by calling, who has heretofore been under suspicion of complicity with counterfeiters and whose employment by bank note companies and by the government has given facilities for improper exercise of his skill. It is not known that more than one die of those that made up the genuine plate from which this denomination of bonds were printed is now in existence, though the records of the office are not as complete as desirable. He mentions the various expert opinions which have been rendered at this solicitation and says each report declares the Doyle bonds are spurious and so unlike the genuine as to be detected by inspection of an expert; that no part of the counterfeit plate was taken from a genuine and that the whole and every part of the plates are counterfeit, differing in many details from the genuine.

Specials from the Capital.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Journal's Washington: It is announced by those in the confidence of Senator Cameron that the meeting of the Pennsylvania republican committee last Wednesday resulted in the determination not to hold a new convention. If there is any compromise it will be the work of the central committees of the two organizations. Mr. Cameron is unalterably opposed to removing Gen. Beaver. He says he is the strongest candidate. He is willing, however to consult on the other candidates.

The announcement that Guiteau's bones are bleaching in the sun on the roof of the medical museum draws a large number of the curious there to-day. The bones, it is said, were removed from the building vat Saturday and washed and they will be exposed to the sun daily for two weeks, after which they will be wired together and the skeleton ready for inspection. The bones are constantly guarded on the roof by a colored man to prevent their being stolen.

The fragment of the American navy at Alexandria consists of one second class vessel and three third class, with about 1000 men in all.

The fund for the relief of the wife of Sergeant Mason is again swelling under reminders of the past few days. Betty is very comfortable and expresses hope to be able to carry a part to aid her husband soon.

A Disgraceful Quarrel.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—A Sunday paper has published an interview with Rev. Dr. Hicks, in which he states on the occasion of the Guiteau autopsy he dismissed Drs. Sowers and Hartigan because they interfered with Dr. Lamb and delayed progress. Dr. Hartigan has sent to the press a written card signed by several surgeons present stating neither Dr. Sowers nor Dr. Hartigan interfered, a single question or uttered a word to retard in any way progress of the autopsy.

Star Route Cases.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Judge Wylie then said the grand jury till Wednesday. Route 40,804 from Mineral Park to Pioche, Ariz., was taken up and facts brought out.

January 2d, 1880, Brady made an order whereby he says that in view of unsatisfactory and irregular service rendered on this route he believes that it should be reduced. He therefore puts the contract back to the original figures, $2988, and deducts $41 from the contractors' pay without allowing the usual extra month's compensation. Six days later the order was rescinded and another made giving a triweekly compensation route and raising contractors' pay to $1[illegible]. The importance of railroad competition is this route was assigned as a reason for the last action. A few more documents completed the record of evidence on this route and court adjourned.

Watts to be Brought Back.

To-day the U. S. marshal received the following telegram from the department of state at Washington: Minister Lowell telegraphs that Watts has been captured and an agent will leave for this country on the 15th inst. unless delayed by habeas corpus. Watts is the motor man first mate of the American ship Imperial, who was arrested on the charge of the U. S. authorities at [illegible] for killing, under the alias of Watson, on the ship Imperial, but was arrested at Queenstown, Ireland, on the arrival of the vessel. According to the dispatch Watts may be expected to arrive at this port in the early part of August. He was indicted by the U. S. grand jury on the charge of wounding Henry Allen with intent to kill, inflicting four cuts upon him, on two charges of wounding with intent to kill Olaf H. Hallunus, and on three charges of wounding with intent to kill Carl Rasmussen by inflicting 21 wounds on his head, face and body.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—[illegible] A. C. Dahn has declined the appointment in the customs service in Arizona, tendered him by Secretary Folger.

According to rumor new indictments in star route cases include Thomas J. Brady, John W. and Stephen Dorsey, a prominent [illegible] senator and John A. Walsh, and will be based on transactions connected with the Salisbury contracts in Louisiana and Texas routes. It is also rumored Walsh will be used as a witness against others.

Garland, Porter and Oliver of the tariff commission have arrived at the Oriental hotel at Coney Island. A session of the commission will be held at the hotel this month.

Senate bill granting right of way to the Arizona Southern R. R. through an Indian reservation in Arizona passed.

The river and harbor bill was returned with an amendment considered for the improvement of the Potomac flats which passed. It appropriates half a million.

The telegraph is now working from a ship moored some miles from Alexandria. Communication with Europe is not much impeded with ships.

The house committee on public buildings and grounds agreed to recommend an appropriation of $[illegible] for a monument at Fredericksburg, Va., in honor of Mary Washington.

After the 1st of August next the U. S. ships New Hampshire, Minnesota and [illegible] will not be in commission for sea service.

Nomination.—Pliny H. Wilcox of Colorado, agent for Indians at San Carlos agency, Arizona.

Postal Changes.

Established—Huntington, Baker county, Oregon; James M. Huntington, postmaster.

Postmasters appointed—D. J. McLaughlin, Coos City, Coos county, Oregon; Henry D. Randall, Olex, Wasco county, Oregon; L. P. Parker, [illegible], Linn county, Oregon.

The Princess of Wales, says London Truth, never looked more charming than she did at the trooping of the colors. She was accompanied as usual, by her three little daughters. The princess seems to have solved the problem of eternal youth. She looks very little older than she did as a bride nineteen years ago. Her bonnet was almost covered with pale-green grapes.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 10.

Morrill from finance committee reported amendments to house bill reducing internal revenue taxation to repeal the 2 per cent duty on all molasses and sugars of certain standard imported from abroad to fix duty on steel rails at $5.0 per ton, and duties on products of hoop, bundle or scroll iron the same as the material itself. Ordered printed.

Vest said he had been informed the title to the flats to be reclaimed would involve the government in much litigation.

Garland suggested an amendment directing full investigation by the attorney-general as to the government's title.

At this point Allison presented the conference report on the bank charter deficiency bill. Ordered printed and laid over until to-morrow.

After debate the pending proposition was amended on motion of Sherman to provide for equity suits to determine title of flats.

Garland's provision also prevailed and original amendment appropriating $500,000 was then carried; yeas, 53; nays, 7.

After additional amendments had prevailed tacking to the bill an increase of $40,000 for Yaquina Bay, Oregon, and $25,000 for Cumberland river, Ky., Butler moved an increase of $200,000, making a total of $300,000 for Charleston harbor; rejected.

Harrison, from committee on transportation routes to the sea board, offered an amendment authorizing the expenditure under direction of secretary of war of $20,000 in completing surveys of a ship canal to connect the Chesapeake and Delaware bays and directing a report to congress as to which of the various routes surveyed will afford the greatest protection in case of war, and most effectively cheapen the cost of transportation from Baltimore to the Atlantic, together with cost of improvement and annual cost of operating the canal when completed. Adopted.

Plumb from committee on public lands reported a bill repealing all laws granting lands to the state of Missouri to aid in the construction and extension of the Iron Mountain railroad in that state, and to restore such lands to the public domain. Placed on calendar. Without disposing of pending bill the senate adjourned.

House.

Crapo submitted conference report enabling national banking associations to extend corporate existence.

After criticism of Randall that perhaps the bill discriminated against silver certificates the report was agreed to.

Conference report on bill to increase the water supply of the District of Columbia agreed to.

Bill passed authorizing transfer of property of the National Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan home to the Garfield memorial hospital.

White introduced a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment prohibiting abridgement of rights of citizens of the United States on account of sex; referred.

House went into committee on sundry civil bill.

On motion of Schultz of Ohio, the provision was struck from the bill which provides that managers of the national home for disabled soldiers shall apply five dollars of each monthly pension of all inmates of the home to support said home. The provision admitting to the home any person who served during the war of the rebellion in the U. S. navy and who is incapacitated from the means of support, was struck from the bill.

The amendment appropriating $750,000 for the construction of a quay wall at New London navy yard was lost.

After completing fifty-nine of eighty five pages of the bill the committee rose and Dengley of Maine introduced a bill for the appointment of a commissioner to inquire into the condition of the ship building and ship owning interest and suggest methods to restore the foreign carrying trade of the United States. Referred, and the house adjourned.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Senator Brown of Georgia wants to provide every senator with a $1200 clerk. This isn't enough. You can't get a first class speech writer for $1200.

Georgia and Louisiana can grow as fine tea as China can, but it doesn't taste the same. However it has its uses. A dose convinces the dosed that there's a heap worse feeling than seasickness.

Mr. Grosjean, who employs 750 persons in the manufacture of stamped ware at Woodhaven, L. I., says he would be able to employ thousands where he now employs hundreds were the excessive tariff abolished.

Texas lawyers expelled one of their number for unprofessional conduct in collecting a bill from a client by ramming a revolver down his throat instead of bringing an action. The lawyer's excuse was that he wanted the money.

Three girls committed suicide at Danville, Ill., by taking arsenic, and the New York Telegram remarks: "Many ladies poison themselves for complexion sake. Others ruin themselves for dress. Man is the cause of it all. There is no use in denying it."

How little medical science is to give up its myth logical learning was demonstrated in New York a few days since when the theory of the ancient Greek medical works and the Old Testament were given as authority in a discussion regarding leprosy before the County Medical society.

Gen. Ignatieff, who has recently resigned the ministry of the interior in Russia, carried the spy system, during his administration to a pitch previously unheard of and opened private letters in the most shameless way. To a visitor he said one day: "Why have you not called on me before? Your relatives have long been urging you to do so in every letter they have written you."

How the feeling against Gladstone is growing in England will be seen by quoting an advertisement evidently inserted by a former liberal, which appeared in the St. James Gazette. It reads: "From a change of views a gentleman has no further use for his artist proof of Millais' great historic picture of Mr. Gladstone, suitably framed by Agnew and signed in full by artist and engraver. Offers to be addressed 'Tory,' care of —— & ——, advertising agents."

A sensation has been produced in Chicago religious and literary circles by the withdrawal of Prof. David Swing from the editorial department of The Chicago Alliance, with which he has been connected since its establishment. The publishers announce that The Alliance will no longer be a religious paper, but will assume a more purely literary and non-political character. The causes for the withdrawal of Prof. Swing have not been announced but are conjectured to result from the employment of Prof. [illegible] C. Milu as a contributor to the paper.

OPEN GAMING.

How the Business Is Carried on in New York City.

Gath in the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Gambling is booming in New York. In the belt area bounded by Park place on the north and Liberty street on the south there are now no less than seven faro games in full blast every week-day from early in the afternoon until 10 o'clock and some stay open until midnight. There are only two or three of these that run on a bank as small as $5,000. Their capital is $10,000 and their reserve three or four times that. The limit is $100 at most. Usually in the drawer, [illegible] but there is not a town or city that finds it necessary to have a bank of $50,000 as a big uptown Morrissey combination game did during the war. That game has two or three dealers' capital in hand to $25,000. In Broadway and Twenty sixth street are two at least of the heaviest games in New York at this time. The proprietors of one of these also run a big day game in Fulton street and during the summer season carry on the establishment formerly run by John Morrissey at Saratoga. The season at Saratoga is short, but very lively while it lasts, from $20,000 to $40,000 changing hands every night.

Midnight suppers are no longer the feature they were before the war. The gambler may offer the player with whom he is acquainted a social glass of good liquor or a fine cigar, but he no longer thinks of tempting custom by broad suppers and expensive wines. It is said by gamblers in this line of play that the percentages in the bank's favor with the way the game is now played do not allow a sufficient margin of profit for them to indulge in any such extravagance. In one very big gaming house in Barclay street two meals are set each day for the employes and the patrons of the house, and to any patrons are present at the time of the meal they are welcome to partake, but there is no marked endeavor to get up a particularly attractive spread. Three of the best up town games still have midnight suppers for their employes at which players are invited to share, but the suppers are not feasts. The limit of the game has been much reduced since the war. Then in two or three of the larger games it was $250 to cases and $500 to doubles. Now it is down so that the highest apart from some rare exceptional case is only $100 to cases and $200 to doubles.

Policy although by no means wiped out is very far from being what it was two years ago when nearly 800 offices flourished in New York. Now there are not more than 200 offices. A feature of the lottery business now is that 300 or 400 men and boys with men are going about town constantly peddling little slips, and their friends and acquaintances, their portraits, their stores, factories, meetings, bar rooms everywhere, indeed that there is hope of finding purchasers. Many of these persons also write policy slips which are rewritten for them by a man regarding that pays them a small percentage for their trouble.

Southern Fondness for Stoneman.

Sacramento Bee.

It is said that whenever a Californian goes to Georgia the numerous majors down there always ask about Gen. Stoneman. And they do it with a queer twinkle in their eyes which seems to have considerable meaning. When interrogated as to why they feel so much interest in an ex-union general, they reply that if all the union generals had been like him the lost cause would have gone up the spout with the southern confederacy holding one of the best works of the earth. They require only a lot of cotton to capture Stoneman and his army of 1,000 and they are from this to the end quite as they could have whipped him with 1,000 northerners. The less curtly worded would have a lingering fondness for the old man.

Waited Long.

A Maine paper relates that a maiden lady now residing in the town of Lyman in that state at the age of 78 years was in her youth engaged to be married to a respectable young man and was making her wedding dress. Her father, objecting to the man, forbad the marriage. She answered: "Well father then you must maintain me as long as I live." She stuck her needle in the unfinished dress, put it and put it into the drawer and there it has remained until the present time—"6 years. How long the father survived such treatment is not told.

Interesting to every one is the case lately referred to by the Brooklyn Eagle. It was told by Mr. W. A. Davenport, connected with the house of Messrs. Butler, Pitkin & Co., 178 Broadway, N. Y., and concerned the marvelous cure of Mr. Ezra D. Clarkson near Newark, N. J., of a terrible case of rheumatism which other remedies had failed even to alleviate. He was on his way to a hospital when Mr. Davenport met him, and induced him to try St. Jacobs Oil, with the result named.

WAR! WAR!

Bombardment of Alexandria Commenced by the English Fleet.

ALL FOREIGN VESSELS WITHDRAWN FROM THE HARBOR.

The American Admiral Declares if any of his Vessels are Struck he will Return Fire—Active Work on the Fortifications still Carried On.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, July 10—1 A. M.—An Alexandria correspondent telegraphs that Admiral Seymour is ready for instant action, pending instructions from home. No fresh complaints have been made to Arabi Pasha in regard to work on fortifications, but the simple intimation will be sent of intention to open fire in 24 hours.

Waiting Orders to Fire.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Herald's Alexandria: Seventeen more heavy guns have been placed in position menacing the British ships notwithstanding the threat of the admiral to open fire. Admiral Seymour is now considering whether he will take action. All British vessels have their steam up. The correspondents have been advised to go afloat. The American admiral has sent word ashore to say that should one of his ships be hit he will return the fire.

Bombardment to Commence at Once.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—Notice of bombardment of Alexandria was given this morning by letter addressed to government by Admiral Seymour. Cartwright, acting British consul here, has written Ragheb Pasha, president of the Egyptian ministry, announcing suspension of relations with the Egyptian government and another letter to Dervish Pasha, Turkish commander, declaring he will be held responsible for the safety of the khedive. The Eastern Telegraph Co is transferring its office to shipboard. Ships having on board officials of the Ottoman bank and Credit Lyonaise have already left. The 24 hours expires 9 o'clock to-morrow morning, when bombardment will commence. Admiral Seymour yesterday summoned his captains aboard the flagship and settled details of the bombardment. The French fleet will not participate in the bombardment.

The Action Commenced.

LONDON, July 11—1 A. M.—A correspondent on board the Bittern telegraphs the following from Alexandria under date of July 11, 7 A. M.: "The bombardment has commenced."

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—It is believed that the governor of Alexandria has proposed a compromise, but Admiral Seymour will not accept any terms short of complete surrender of forts. British ships are cleared for action. The Thetis, Monarch and Invincible are lying in the harbor, the rest of the ships outside the harbor. All foreign consuls excepting the British have protested against the bombardment. The French squadron sailed at sunset, leaving behind only the Alma and Hirondelle.

Troops from India.

CALCUTTA, July 10.—The government of India has received final and definite orders to despatch its contingent to Egypt under Sir Herbert MacPherson, who commanded the brigade in the Afghan war. Large steam transports are preparing at Agra and Bombay arsenals.

Movements of the French Fleet.

PARIS, July 10.—It is announced semi officially that a French fleet will go to Port Said in accordance with an understanding with Seymour.

Egyptian War Notes.

LONDON, July 10.—Notices summoning reserves are issued.

ALEXANDRIA, July 10.—All foreign war vessels except the English are leaving the harbor.

A dispatch from Alexandria reports the Khedive has declined the offer by the English to provide for his safety on board a man-of-war.

The Times says, in event of war in Egypt 600 men of the household cavalry will be made ready for active service.

The 63th regiment is ordered to Aden.

A Question for the Porte.

LONDON, July 10.—A conference meets to-day or to-morrow to agree upon delivery of a collective note to the porte. If the porte declines to intervene in Egypt the English and French ambassadors will insist upon immediate discussion of another mode.

Turkish War Vessels to be Manned.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 10.—The Turkish admiralty has warned crews of Turkish iron clads to be in readiness.

Parliamentary Proceedings.

LONDON, July 10.—In the house of lords this afternoon Lord Granville, foreign secretary, confirmed the news that unless Alexandria forts temporarily surrendered Admiral Seymour would bombard it at daybreak to-morrow. It is painful, he said, to be obliged to use force against a weak country, but hostile preparations have been proceeding in defiance of orders both of the khedive and sultan, and action is now taken in simple defense.

The Irish repression bill was read a second time without division.

In commons Gladstone stated that the defeat of the government on Friday was unprecedented. The government would use discretion in employing the powers given them and he hoped it would not be necessary to employ all of them. That was all he had to say on the subject.

The under foreign secretary made a statement regarding events in Egypt similar to that of Lord Granville in lords. [Received with cheers.]

Gladstone stated he had abandoned hope of passing any of the bills mentioned in the queen's speech on opening parliament except the corrupt practices bill. He said it would be impossible to amend the land bill the present session, and that after passing the repression and arrears bill he should ask for adjournment, probably until the latter part of October, parliament then to meet for the purpose of discussing procedure only. Replying to a question by Northcote, Gladstone said he would prefer not to answer the question as to the government's intentions on the question of procedure before adjournment in August.

Government introduced a bill providing for immigration on a large scale.

Health of this city and of the islands is very good.

Funeral of General Skobeleff.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Herald's Moscow: Requiem mass was celebrated yesterday at hotel Dussaux in the room where the body of Gen. Skobeleff is lying. All Moscow authorities were present. Amongst them was Governor General Prince Dolgorouki. Last night the body was borne in solemn state to the cathedral whence it will be transferred to Skobeleff's estate at Riaza and buried. Moscow papers appeared with black borders this morning. During the afternoon people had been admitted to see the body lying on a bed of state in full uniform covered with flowers. Troops lined the streets and escorted the funeral car which was entirely covered with white. Prince Dolgorouki and generals and aids de camp followed on horseback. The minister of war arrived this morning. Grand Duke Alexis and his cousin Grand Duke Nicholas, will follow to-morrow.

General Foreign Notes.

THE HAGUE, July 10.—Several bodies have washed ashore from the Dutch iron clad Adder, reported lost yesterday.

DUBLIN, July 10.—A farmer's herder named Doughty was mortally wounded at Gunis, County Clare, Sunday.

At a railway collision at Cork Sunday 30 persons were injured, 12 of whom are expected to die.

Rioting occurred yesterday at Tredegar, Wales, between Welsh and Irish. Many houses of Irish men were sacked and several persons severely injured.

The Hillsdale Crew's Mishaps.

LONDON, July 10.—The Metropolitan Amateur Regatta committee and the Moulsey Regatta committee decline to make entry of the Hillsdale crew. The captain of the Hillsdales informed the sportsmen that the crew are very much disappointed at the result of their visit, but their chief concern is at the slight thrown upon the amateur rowing association of America.

Disapproval of Canada's Action.

LONDON, July 10.—The Daily News learns there has been important correspondence with the Canadian government relative to their action with the resolution of the dominion parliament approving home rule for Ireland. The imperial government, the News says, expressed emphatic disapproval of the conduct of the dominion.

Damaged by a Collision.

The British ship Shakespeare, Captain Dowling, which sailed from Hamburg June 19th for San Francisco, has taken refuge at Lisbon, having been damaged in collision.

Death of "Phiz."

Habl. K. Knight Brown, the comic designer, better known as "Phiz," illustrator of Dickens' works, is dead.

The report that Thomas Jefferson did not compose the declaration, but that the work was done by a fellow named Johnny Dickins, is now authoritatively denied. This is good as far as it goes, but it doesn't fully compensate for the throwing away of democratic chances in Oregon.—Boston Post.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

Stinging irritation, inflammation, all kidney and urinary complaints, cured by Buchupaiba. $1.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

The rainfall at Eugene on the 4th was 1.46 inches.

Some 12,000 pounds of wool has been purchased at Junction City, the price paid ranging from 23 to 25 cents per pound.

I. S. Swearinger of Junction City has bought 10,000 bushels of oats since the 1st of May, paying 45 cents per bushel.

Southern Oregon.

Haying is retarded in Curry county on account of the scarcity of laborers.

Cherries sell at 10 cents and peaches and apricots at 12½ cents per pound in the Coos bay markets.

Robert Henderson, a resident of Rogue river valley since 1851, died on the 2d inst., aged 63 years.

Blackleg has made its appearance in Sprague river valley. A number of young cattle have died from it.

The dwelling house of Geo. W. Clarno on Forest creek, Jackson county, was burned a few days since.

The contract for carrying the mails between Linkville and Lakeview has been sublet to S. W. Kilgore at $3200.

Marshfield school district has levied a ten mill tax to raise funds to buy grounds and build a public school house.

A large area of sorghum has been planted this season in Jackson, and more syrup than ever will be manufactured.

A great many more hogs than usual will be fattened in Jackson county this year and a vast amount of corn is therefore being raised.

Isaac Fredenburg died at the home of his son in Rogue river valley recently, aged 80 years. He was one of the early residents of that locality.

Lightning struck two large trees not far from where the crowd had assembled in the grove near Eagle point on the 4th, but fortunately did no harm.

Hanley Bros. have just made a cattle sale in the Lake country, realizing over $40,000 for their band. They received about $22.50 per head for the whole band.

Only about $1000 of the Josephine county tax remains delinquent and most of this is due from persons who have left this county or is otherwise uncollectable.

The largest amount of business ever transacted in the Jacksonville telegraph office was done during the month of June, just ended. This includes both the number of messages handled and the cash receipts.

The Laws brothers were buried at Linkville the forepart of last week. Their mother is said to be lying at the point of death, owing to this terrible affair. Laws himself is away from home and believed to be secreted somewhere.

Henry Lane, who killed Noah Fox near Wm. Nageli's place on Grave creek, has not been seen since the fatal occurrence. He said he intended to surrender himself to the sheriff of Josephine county at Kerbyville, but has not done so as yet.

Barlow & Dillon will this month send to the North Bend mill the logs from their camp on South Coos river. Their logs are fir and represented as a very fine lot. They will have about 300,000 feet, one-third of which is in logs from 35 to 40 feet in length.

The south bound stage that left Jacksonville last Sunday week met with an accident while going down the Siskiyou mountains by upsetting and throwing all the passengers over the grade. Mr. and Mrs. Baum were passengers on the stage at the time and the latter had an arm broken by the fall.

Fifteen men are at work on the vessel being built at Gardiner by Capt. Holder. She is called, the deck frame is in place, and the captain expects to commence planking her in a week or two. Ship carpenters are not to be had in sufficient numbers to supply the demand for them, and with the force at present employed by Holder he will not be able to launch the vessel until about September 10.

Jacksonville Sentinel: On Friday last one wagon load of emigrants camped near Chavner's bridge on Rogue river, while on their way north, consisting of Henry Bedford and Chas. Hendricks, the latter accompanied by his wife. Report says that after supper the two men went in swimming together, since which time nothing has been seen of Hendricks, and Bedford reported him as having drowned while bathing in the river. His body has not yet been recovered and what seems strange about the affair is that the survivor together with the other man's family and property started northward next morning, without making any effort to recover the body. Some suspect foul play, while others think Hendricks wants the impression created that he is dead. Hendricks hails from Chico and Bedford from Adin, Cal. Colusa Lodge A. O. U. W. offers a reward of $200 for the recovery of Hendricks' body if he is dead and further developments are anxiously awaited.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 11, 1882.

THE FATE OF EGYPT.

The most important news of to-day is the announcement that British guns have opened fire on Alexandria. The fortifications of the place are of no inconsiderable strength, and if properly manned will make an effective resistance. But probably they are furnished with no guns of range and power equal to those of the British fleet. Defended with spirit, the city could not be reduced by the fleet alone. But unless terms are made a British land force of 30,000 to 40,000 men will be in Egypt within a few weeks. The result is hardly a matter of conjecture. In effect, it will be the addition of Egypt to the list of dependencies of the British empire.

We have heretofore given a brief statement of the causes which have led up to the present crisis. Egypt is mortgaged to England and France, and her present undertaking is an effort to get rid of their control. At bottom, too, the old Moslem spirit is rankling, and the issue is in part one of race and religion. The country has a population of about six millions, and a military force which might be made really formidable for defense.

For a month past an effort has been making to obtain a conference of the six principal European nations, to be held in Constantinople, to settle the questions in dispute. In vain the sultan has been pressed to assent to this arrangement. To the last he has insisted that Egypt was a province of the Turkish empire, and that the other nations had no more business to interfere than he would have to intrude his advice in a matter pertaining to the relations of any British colony with the empire of the queen. This is the theoretical part of the affair from the Turkish standpoint. In fact, we know well enough that neither Turkey nor Egypt, neither Abdul or Tewfik have much to say about government. While Tewfik pretends to hold for the sultan, Arabi recognizes neither Turkey nor England. Foreign consuls try all cases in which the citizens of their countries are parties. England and France jointly administer the finances. Was there ever a country known to history where there was so much second hand misgovernment as in this early seat of learning and power, the land of the Pharaohs and the Ptolemies, of the hundred-gated Thebes and the fertile Nile?

There are not wanting those so suspicious of the motives of England as to think that all this mischief, uproar, riot, and bloodshed is stirred up by England and France to give occasion to intervene. If Beaconsfield were premier we should be more ready to harbor such suspicion, but as it is we see nothing but the natural result of such a divided and irresponsible government. The sultan and khedive both disclaim responsibility, because their hands are tied fast by foreign intervention. Arabi Bey is at the head of the soldiers, who know of no other authority than their own general, and for himself he is believed to be meditating the assumption of authority in his own name and right to overthrow both khedive and sultan. But England has a grip which she will never loosen, and the thunder of her cannon at Alexandria is the announcement of her resolve. She will make Egypt her vassal, but at the same time will make her free; she will rob her, yet make her rich; she brings upon her the horrors of war, and yet will extend to her the blessings of a more beneficent civilization than she has ever known.

OUR FISHERY INTEREST.

Reports from the lower Columbia river agree that the salmon run this season is light—one-third less than last year. Canners hope by fishing late into the season to make the "up put" equal the pack of last year—550,000 cases of four-dozen one pound tins. The fisheries of the Columbia river yield to the canners, the original producers, nearly three millions of dollars per annum and give employment, directly or indirectly, to ten thousand men. This profitable business is in serious danger of being ruined by the greed of canners, who fail to observe the commonest caution in regard to future runs of salmon. The "plants" of the canneries is comparatively of little value, and having little actual property in risk, the canners are careless for the future. They ought not to fish after the first of August, so that a sufficient number of salmon could reach the spawning grounds to insure abundant runs in seasons to come. Further, a hatching establishment should be put in operation. It is possible to maintain by artificial means the drain of constant fishing, and the cost would be light. The government ought to do it, but if it will not, the men who are making fortunes out of the salmon business should take the matter into their own hands.

The importance and value of the fishery product of the United States cannot be overestimated. Recent statistics show that this value in the census year 1880 was about $45,000,000, the estimated price paid to the producers, while the value of the same products at wholesale prices could not be less than $90,000,000. The export trade amounted to only $5,744,580, principally on account of a strong home demand. Among the fishery product are dried cod and pollock, smoked herring, halibut and mullet, pickled and spiced fish, salted mackerel, canned salmon, lobsters, clams, oysters, crabs, shrimps and cod and sardines. The consumption of these is constantly on the increase in England, France and Germany. Many of these products of ours are, however, rarely found abroad, particularly pickled fish, of which great quantities are consumed in all parts of Europe. Since the exhibition at Berlin in 1880 agencies for the sale of American fish have been established in nearly every country in Europe, and the American boneless codfish has been adopted as a standard article of food by nearly a score of the regiments in the German army. The export of fishery goods from the United States to Europe in 1880 amounted in value to $134,788, and in 1881 to $1,902,100. The exports of oysters to England alone in 1881 amounted in value to $403,629.

REVENUE REFORM.

As a reformer Mr. Edward Atkinson is inclined to be conservative, which is well enough. He thinks that "the aggressive method of representing the advocates of protection as spoilers and the tariff as iniquitous, merely retards the necessary reform and change. The present tariff was instituted as a war measure, and a large proportion, if not the whole, of the textile manufacturers of this section would prefer a very large abatement on the present rates, and an adjustment of duties to the conditions of peace, provided care and judgment may be taken in the matter. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that the advocates of free trade should make it manifest that they intend no destructive or aggressive action, but that they have due regard for existing conditions, and will not threaten such revolutionary changes as would inevitably tend to a reaction, because of the harm which might be done even in the process of making useful changes in an injudicious way." We fully approve of the latter portion of this counsel, but why tariff reformers should be timid about telling the truth, Mr. Atkinson does not explain, except that the truth, if made too public, is likely to arouse the combativeness of those to whom it applies. We believe it to be a fact that the present protective tariff is iniquitous. It has been built up not upon patriotism, however mistaken, but upon a broad and strong foundation of selfishness. It is not the work of the people, but of the lobbying representatives of special interests, and it does not represent the best collective sense of the people, but is the product of influences at odds with the highest interests of the people. Selfishness may easily be carried beyond the point of culpability and become more than venial—even criminal. When it so plainly robs the poorest for the benefit of the richest as our present protective tariff has done; when it forces industry, which is the life of the nation, to march in chains, we think that it is let off very easily, stamped as an iniquitous economic system, and we do not see how the people are to be properly aroused to their danger if this fact is to be covered up. But because protection, as now exemplified, is iniquitous both in its motives and results, it does not follow that revenue reformers are to rush headlong to the other extreme. Two evils do not make a good, and while we do not regard free trade, as England has it, as evil in the abstract, it would be so if exchanged suddenly for the arbitrary system that now prevails. It is the duty, and we believe the purpose, of tariff reformers to proceed cautiously in this matter, not for fear of hurting the feelings of sensitive protectionists, but out of regard for the highest material interests of the country. They must give trade and industry no rude shock, for tariff reform involves consideration for all classes, and we want the industry of the country to stand erect in native honor clad, not by violent processes, but by a close study of the needs of the country and such progress as all interests can naturally conform to. The protectionists have tried hard to make it appear that there was no middle ground between their artificial system and free trade, but unless we mistake they will find that they have insulted and repelled the best sense of the country in so doing.

In two years more the world will have reached the 400th anniversary of the birth of William Tyndale, to whom we are indebted for our English Bible, and it is certainly fitting that some special observance should mark this significant date. The earl of Shaftesbury and the archbishop of Canterbury have undertaken to erect a bronze memorial statue of Tyndale, with bas-reliefs illustrative of scenes in his life, upon the Thames embankment, and considerable interest in the same object has naturally been awakened in this country. A committee headed by the venerable Dr. Mark Hopkins of Williamstown, of which Rev. N. H. Egleston is secretary, has the matter in charge in this country, and while it would be easy to work upon wealthy citizens to subscribe the entire amount desired, that is not exactly the purpose of the movement. It is rather to interest large circles of thought, and especially the young, in the history of religious progress, to which Tyndale's work was such an important contribution. As will be seen, there can hardly be anything of a denominational character in this undertaking, and we trust that it will develop creditably to the American people.

A census bulletin shows that the total number of males in the United States over twenty-one years of age, in the year 1880, was 12,830,349. Of these 238,912 were residents of the territories. The number of votes actually cast in the presidential election of 1880, five months after the census, was, in round numbers, 9,225,000. The difference may be accounted for partly by the large number of aliens in the United States. Besides, on every election day many legal voters are away from their legal polling-places. But, after making due allowance for these and other causes, there must remain a large deficiency which can be accounted for only on the supposition that there are many who, having the right to do so, still do not take the trouble, even in a presidential election. In the Southern States generally, the discrepancy is greater than in the northern, owing; no doubt, in no small degree to the suppression of the colored vote. Thus, Louisiana, with a male population over twenty-one years of age of 216,987, threw only 97,201 votes in 1880; while Indiana, with 498,437 males over twenty-one, cast a vote of 470,678.

W. H. Robertson, collector of the port of New York, to which position he was appointed by President Garfield, is quoted as saying that the assessment circular issued by the republican congressional committee need have no terrors for the employes of the custom house over which he is placed, and that no man will be dismissed or in any way interfered with for not paying a political assessment. Mr. Robertson approves of the circular letter published by the civil service reform association of New York, which warns leading officeholders that by complying with the request to subscribe, made by the committee who are officers of the United States government, they will be liable to the penalty prescribed by the statute. The association will bring the question of these assessments before the United States attorney-general and other prosecuting officers.

The fact is recalled that one of the first official acts of Daniel Webster as secretary of state under President Harrison, was to address to the heads of the several departments a letter declaring that it was a great abuse to bring the patronage of the general government into conflict with the freedom of elections; and hence that the president directed notice to be given to all officers and agents in the departments that "partisan interference in popular elections, or the payment of any contribution or assessment on salaries for party or election purposes, would be regarded as cause for removal." As good a thing as President Arthur could do would be to multiply lithographic copies of that letter and hang them up all through the white house.

The General Stone who is mentioned in the telegraphic reports in connection with Egyptian affairs is the same General Charles P. Stone who was in command on the upper Potomac at the time of the disaster at Ball's Bluff, where Senator Baker of Oregon was killed. It was in obedience to his orders that Baker made the advance that resulted so disastrously. General Stone was held for a considerable time in prison for alleged misconduct on that occasion. On being released he accepted a high position in the military service of the khedive of Egypt, where he has ever since remained.

The remarkable growth of the Australasian colonies since the discovery of gold, which occurred in 1851, is attested by recent statistics. The population increased in the period 1851-81, from 214,000 to 2,000,000. The wool clip has more than doubled in the past ten years. There were over 82,000,000 head of live stock on the pastures, and nearly 7,000,000 acres of land under cultivation last year. Since 1851 gold to the amount of $1,460,000,000 has been produced in the colonies. In 1881, 8,500,800 tons of shipping entered and cleared the ports.

Persons from Yaquina bay inform us that the almost total suspension of work on the railroad that Hogg and Nash promised to build this year greatly disappoints the people, some of whom curse Portland and denounce THE OREGONIAN for the failure. We believe Portland and THE OREGONIAN did not engage to build the road. If the people over there want to lay the blame where it belongs, let them censure those who lied to them about the undertaking. THE OREGONIAN has told them the truth.

It would be a splendid sight to see our "navy" participating in the affair at Alexandria. Rear Admiral Nicholson notifies all whom it may concern that if any of his alleged vessels are hit by either party he will return the fire. Now the Englishman will quake with fear! Three cheers for Robeson and his knaval committee! The world will look on with admiration, mixed with terror, while our Gargantua combs the cannon-balls out of his hair.

Alexandria is situated on a peninsula formed by the Mediterranean sea and Lake Mareotis, a short distance west of one of the Nile delta, and contains a population of about 270,000, of whom 70,000 are Europeans. The city was fortified by Mehemet Ali, and is supposed capable, when well manned, of effectual resistance to an army of 40,000 men. It is the only seaport of consequence possessed by Egypt, and the second city in size in the country.

The British anti slavery society has sent a memorial to Mr. Gladstone on slavery and the slave trade in Turkey and Egypt. Now that Britain's guns have begun to thunder at Alexandria it may be set down as pretty certain that the days of slavery in Egypt are numbered. British representatives will probably be instructed to insist that the abolition of the slave trade be an indispensable part of any settlement.

From the Chicago Tribune: "Brother Hubbell's you-don't-need-to-come-down unless-you-want-to-but-be-mighty-careful-that you-do circular has reached the Chicago custom house. The boys have taken the hint and have two per cent of their salaries about their clothes, which they would rather give up than not.

Mrs. Scoville wants Guiteau's body. If reports concerning it are true, she is a trifle late.

CITY.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.—About 5 o'clock last evening a man came to his death while swimming in the Willamette opposite the brick yard, near the water works. No one who saw him enter the water, or after he was in, knew his name, but a woman living near by said, from the description given to her she thought it was a man whom she had seen and knew by the name of Morrow, and that his first name was Almon, but of this she would not be certain. This was all that could be learned last night in regard to his identity. He came to the river's bank near the water works, alone, and several boys saw him divest himself of his clothing and plunge in. He swam around for some time as if enjoying the sport, and went some distance from the shore. P. J. Holland, who was passing the spot, noticed the man and that he appeared to be a strong swimmer. Just at this point the bather turned toward the shore, and after a few strokes in that direction, threw up his hands and sank. Holland cried for help and several people came to the spot, but although all anxiously watched the spot where the man had disappeared, he was not seen to rise again. Coroner Cooke was notified and took charge of the man's clothing, which was lying upon the bank. The body had not been recovered up to the hour of going to press.

ARRIVAL OF THE "GENERAL MILES."—The new coasting steamer launched recently at Astoria and christened the General Miles arrived at Portland yesterday, and is moored at Flanders's dock. She left Astoria Sunday afternoon at half past one o'clock, having in tow the American barkentine Tam O'Shanter until they reached Rainier. The Tam O'Shanter was left at the latter place, where she will load with spars for San Francisco. The General Miles came on up the river, arriving here at half past five yesterday morning. During the recent trip and several shorter ones which she has made since launched, she has proved herself a most worthy vessel, very speedy and economical on fuel. She is now loading a cargo for the Tillamook Packing Company, consisting of salt, tin, brick for furnaces and general stores, amounting to 100 tons. She will finish loading to-day and sail this afternoon. After discharging this cargo at Tillamook, she will return at once to Astoria and thence sail for San Francisco, where it is probable she will be employed as a general tug boat in the future. Her engines are very powerful and calculated to do all kinds of heavy work. The carpenters are still at work on board finishing up the cabins, and some painting yet remains to be done. All this will be done in two or three days.

WAS THE HORSE STOLEN?—One day last week a man named Harry Williams put up at Joseph Delay's livery stable, in Albina, with three horses to remain over night. He paid for his accommodations and next morning, before any one was up at the stable, he took his animals and departed. When Mr. Delay came to the stable he missed a curry comb and brush and two bridles. Believing that Williams had stolen them he came to Portland, and after interviewing Chief of Police Luppens, went to Justice Davis' court and swore out a warrant for Williams' arrest. This was placed in the hands of Constable Simmons, who started out to hunt up the man. He found him at Oregon City, and returned with him to Portland, where Williams left his horse in Simmons' custody as security for his appearance at the trial yesterday. The hour set for the case was ten o'clock, A. M., but ten P. M. came and still no Williams had appeared. The horse is worth about $75, but suspicion points very strongly toward the fact that it is a stolen animal.

RIVER PIRATES.—Between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday night thieves entered the cabin of the river tug Commodore Perry lying at Pacific dock, and stole four pairs of blankets, a lot of provisions and a diamond pin belonging to Capt. W. W. Taylor, and a valise full of papers belonging to Mr. G. W. Taylor, of great value to him, but worthless to anyone else. The robbers evidently left in the skiff, a very heavy one, attached to the tug, and pulled down to the O. & C. depot, where Chas. Talbott's new row boat was tied. They then transferred the plunder to Talbott's boat and pulled down stream, towing the first skiff stolen. The watchman at Albina saw them pass down about 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Later in the day Capt. Taylor found his skiff in some brush near St. Johns, but could get no trace of the thieves. Talbott's boat is lead color, has a lug sail, is decked over like a sail boat, and the name "Hare" is cut into the stern.

CHINAMAN CRUSHED BY THE CARS.—The gravel train on the O. R. & N. Co's road ran over a Chinaman yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, five miles out of the city. The man was a laborer in the employ of the road, and together with several of his companions was riding on a load of gravel. He stood too near the edge and a sudden jerk of the train threw him between the cars. His body fell directly across one of the rails and the wheels passed over him, crushing in his chest and killing him instantly. Before the train could be stopped the body was severed almost in halves. The white men employed upon the train picked up the remains and carried them to the camp, which was about 300 yards distant. A messenger was despatched to the city who procured a coffin and the body will be buried near the spot where the accident occurred.

AUTOMATIC CAR-COUPLER.—Mr. A. D. Atwood, of East Portland, has just completed a model of what is called an automatic car-coupler. It is a very ingenious contrivance, and if proved successful and adopted, will be the means of saving the life of many a railroad employe, as the coupling and uncoupling may be all done without the men going between the cars for that purpose. This model, which is a very fine one, is being sent to the Louisville & Nashville railroad company, where its merits will be properly tested. Mr. Atwood has been engaged on this model, at intervals, for nearly three years, and has at last succeeded to his entire satisfaction. With the faith of all inventors, he has not the slightest doubt but that it will come into general use on all railroads in the United States.

JIM TURK UNDER $500 BONDS.—Yesterday afternoon a sailor from one of the vessels now lying in port received his pay for the voyage which he had just finished and was about to go on shore, when Jim Turk appeared and tried to get the sailor to go with him. The sailor refused, when Jim took his bundle of clothes and walked off in spite of the sailor's protests. The latter then went to the office of Justice Greene and swore out a warrant for Turk on a charge of grand larceny. Turk was arrested and brought before Justice Greene, where he gave bonds in the sum of $500 for his appearance in court to-day. The sailor has plenty of money and has engaged a good lawyer. He says he will spend the last cent to convict Turk of the charge against him.

DID NOT ESCAPE.—Captain Burvis, of the steamer Devonshire, was arrested yesterday by the United States marshal on a charge of violating certain provisions of the passenger act. It seems that the Devonshire brought 826 Chinamen from Hongkong last week, and the berth of each of the passengers was so arranged that it conflicted with the provision of the law in regard to this matter. The penalty in each case is $5 fine. The amount of fine to which Captain Burvis will be subjected, if convicted, will reach the sum of $4130.

THEY'RE ON DECK AGAIN.—The shanghaier has broken loose once more. Nicholas Bonne, an Austrian sailor, claims that because he refused to ship on board an American vessel, James Franklin yesterday set upon and beat him. He came to the police court and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Franklin, who he also alleges knocked him down with a chair. Franklin will probably give a different version of the story when brought into court, and the city treasury may be enriched by two fines.

THROWN FROM A HORSE.—A few days ago a son of Mrs. Ridder, who resides at Mt. Tabor, was riding a horse when, by some means, the horse got his foot caught in a broken rail, and the boy was thrown to the ground, striking on his back. He was picked up insensible and remained in that condition for a long time. Doctor Dave Rafferty was called, and upon examination found the boy suffering from a partial dislocation of the spine. It is thought he will recover from his injuries.

WANTED TO GET BACK.—Jack Martin, who escaped from the penitentiary about 18 months ago, got tired of outdoor life and on Saturday last presented himself to the authorities and asked to be readmitted. The request was granted. Such cases are very few, but this indeed is true.

COMING.—The party of twenty-five ladies and gentlemen who started from Bloomington, Ill., on the 29th ultimo, for Portland, are passengers by the Oregon, which sailed yesterday. Mr. Thos. E. Fell, of Bloomington, has charge of the excursion.

BONDS APPROVED.—Yesterday Mayor Chapman approved the bonds given by D. E. Budd for the completion of the street railway proposed to be built on Washington and Eleventh streets. The sureties are W. A. Scoggin and E. J. Jeffery.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—Judge Deady will deliver an opinion in this court this morning on the demurrer to the information in the case of the U. S. v. G. W. Loftis, for sending indecent matter through the mails.

NOT ABSCONDED.—E. E. Kellogg of East Portland is authority for the statement that his partner, H. D. Lang, did not abscond as reported, but that his motives for leaving were perfectly honest.

THE OREGON'S CARGO.—The Oregon, which sailed for Portland yesterday, brings 120 cabin passengers, 200 in the steerage and 2030 tons of freight, of which 122 tons are for Astoria.

OPEN TO-MORROW.—The east side narrow gauge extension from Brownsville to Coburg, Linn county, will be open to freight and passenger traffic to-morrow.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Olds & King, 150 First street, have elegant garments for children.

Gents desiring a good pair of kid gloves will find a good article for lowest price at P. E. Brigham's.

A. Roberts, First and Alder, offers all summer goods at prices which will insure early closing out of stock.

NEW PAPER WAREHOUSE.—Call at 91 Second st., bet. Stark and Oak, for all kinds of paper at extraordinary low rates. Closing out my line of legal cap, bill cap and letter and note papers at cost to make room. R. H. SCHWAB & CO.

MRS. R. C. SPRENGER will return to Portland and resume her classes in drawing and painting about the 1st of August. A model will be furnished once a week for those who desire to study from life.

COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.—D. W. Prentice & Co., the leading music dealers, have put in a lot of new shelving to accommodate their rapidly increasing business. They received by the Columbia 5000 pieces of sheet music and 300 books. This, in addition to their already large stock, gives them a position second to none on the Pacific coast.

Remember that Child's Drug Store has been established in Portland five years.

Sewing machines repaired at Garrison's, 167 Third street, Portland.

A gold, shell-case, Riverside Waltham ladies' chronometer; a stem winder; the finest ladies' watch made—cost value $130—will be sold for $60. At Uncle Myers', 181 First street.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

The Inefficient Telegraph Service Discussed—New Pilotage Bill Demanded—Routine Business.

Last night a regular meeting of the board of trade was held, President Macleay in the chair.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Senator Slater and Congressman George, acknowledging receipt of memorial endorsing the Nicaragua canal scheme.

From Capt. John Mullan, of Washington, D. C., offering his services as agent in collection of claims which will be presented before the court of commissioners of Alabama claims.

REPORTS.

From the committee appointed to collect funds for expenses of scraping the Columbia river bar, reporting that $2,943 50 had been raised and that additional funds were necessary.

From the special committee on overland mails, reporting that fast mail service had been instituted June 15th between Redding and Roseburg. Committee discharged.

THE BAD TELEGRAPH SERVICE.

The special committee appointed at the last meeting to inquire into the reasons for continued insufficient telegraph service reported that they called on Mr. Lamb, the superintendent, who received them very courteously, and said the annoying prostration of the line up the Columbia during the recent high water was due to railroad work along the line, which prostrated poles and cut the wires; and that it was not in his power to secure better messenger service.

Mr. Dodd, chairman of the committee, supplemented the written report with a verbal statement, exonerating Mr. Lamb from blame in the matter. He had his orders from the general office and must be guided by them. He was allowed five messengers at a compensation of $15 per month, the same number employed in other cities of like population. It was impossible to secure good boys, except during vacation, for these wages. He resolved, therefore, to employ only four boys, dividing the wages of five between them. These four will serve a radius of half a mile from the office, say to the corner of First and Madison on the south and Ainsworth block on the north. Telegrams for persons residing half a mile from the office would be turned over to the telephone company, who would deliver them for 15 cents extra per message. When appealed to with the statement that this extra charge was illegal, Mr. Lamb said it was beyond his power to remedy the matter. He promised, however, as far as he could, to give the very best service with the messengers at his command.

Mr. B. Goldsmith related about the unnecessary detention of two telegrams last week. One was received early Saturday afternoon, and at three o'clock the customary note was left under the store door. The other was received early Sunday morning and another note shoved under the door. Both were delivered at nine o'clock, Monday morning, when either could have reached any one of the partners without delay at their residence. Mr. Goldsmith thought the company showed anything but good sense in fixing the number of their employes by the population of a city. Perhaps other cities equal in population to Portland did not use the telegraph half or quarter so much. A business house, he said, did not regulate the number of its employes by the size of its building, or the population of the town, but by the amount of business it had to do; and the telegraph company should adopt the same common sense principles.

The report was received, the committee continued and requested to lay the facts together with an appeal for better service before the general officers.

PILOTAGE BILL.

A general discussion was held on the necessity of making an effort in the next legislature to secure the passage of a bill to regulate pilotage, and to forever separate it from the towage system. The unanimous voice of all present was in favor of a just pilotage law, and the matter was referred to the special committee of ten appointed several months ago to look after the tug business and all matters pertaining to the Columbia river bar. They were requested to prepare a bill, changing the present law relating to pilotage and towage, so as to conform with the demands of commerce.

ONTMANA'S TRADE.

Mr. Dodd said that he had called on Mr. Muir, superintendent of traffic of the O. R. & N. and N. P. railroads, who offered to all merchants such concessions as would enable them to secure at least a portion of the trade of Missoula. Adjourned.

BRIEF MENTION.

Literary entertainment and ice cream festival at Hall-street church to-night.

Miss Fanny De Clark, of East Portland, left yesterday for a two weeks' visit to friends in Roseburg.

Dr. Wheeler has gone to Olympia to attend the Grand Lodge A. O. U. W., and will return Friday, P. M., 14th.

Ah Loy, charged with an attempt to sell tainted meat, did not appear in court yesterday, and his bail of $25 was declared forfeited.

Albert Davey, the butcher, arrested for an unprovoked assault upon Ah Sing, a Chinaman, was fined $10 in the police court yesterday.

Hearing in the case of Wm. Powers, charged with complicity in the stealing of carpenter's tools from J. S. Coates, was postponed until to-day by the police judge.

There will be a meeting of Oregon Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, at their Asylum this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. Work in the Templar degree. A full attendance requested.

Capt. John Smith and his daughter, Mrs. Lee, of East Portland, returned yesterday from an extended visit east. Capt. Smith was a delegate to the United Presbyterian synod, at Monmouth, Ill.

Martin Johnson, arrested for robbing Gaten's pawn-broking establishment of a gold watch, was arraigned in the police court yesterday. He was released on his own recognizance to appear before the grand jury.

Mr. H. D. McGuire returned Saturday from a trip to Roseburg, where he had been on a short visit with J. E. Stewart, Esq., the artist. Mr. Maguire leaves East Portland to-day for Olympia, where he goes as a delegate from Fidelity Lodge, which meets on the 11th inst, to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Hazel Kirke," the most successful of modern plays, now approaching its 2000th performance, will be presented at New Market theater for five nights, commencing next Tuesday. The company comes direct from Madison Square theater, New York, and includes Miss Effie Ellsler, Mr. C. W. Couldock, Mr. Chas. Bowser, and the remainder of the Madison Square cast. The theater is being thoroughly renovated, and an entire new set of scenery is being painted specially for this engagement. The sale of reserved seats begins to-morrow at Prentice's.

Callender's colored minstrels return Saturday for one performance. If possible a special train will be chartered to bring them from Independence in time for a matinee.

THE MAGIC BALM CONCERT.

Prof. M. A. Scott, the Australian pain autocrat, delivered his first "Magic Balm" lecture and concert last evening, on the corner of First and Morrison streets, and judging from the enormous crowd that assembled to welcome him, he must have met with unparalleled success. Indeed we have never seen a patent medicine man so heartily received as was Prof. Scott last evening.

The entertainment opened with the "Larboard Watch" duet, which was beautifully rendered by Mr. C. S. Lawrence and Mr. Geo. French. Both of these gentlemen possess highly-cultivated voices and last evening acquitted themselves well. Mr Lawrence sang "Nancy Lee" admirably, and Mr. French's rendition of "The Empty Cradle" was something unlooked for by the audience. Professor Scott appeared rather hoarse, probably owing to change of climate, but nevertheless he amused his hearers from first to last, and effected three very difficult cures of Neuralgia and Toothache with the "Magic Balm." The "Magic Balm" wagon, in which the professor preaches, lectures, and plays upon his diminutive organ (which, by the by, is a marvel in itself), is very richly built and decorated, and the four flaming torches attached to it helped to light up the whole of Morrison street. Professor Scott gives his second concert this evening at the same place, and it is to be hoped he will meet with the same success as he did last evening. The professor may be consulted at the St. George Hotel during the day, from 10 to 12 and 2 to 4.

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE.

Two Prisoners Make a Break for Liberty, One Killed Instantly and the Other Captured.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SALEM, July 10.—Lee and Graham, two convicts confined in the Oregon penitentiary, made a break for liberty this afternoon, which resulted in the death of the latter. They concealed themselves near the gate leading to the outside brickyard, and when the gate was opened to admit a team, slipped out. They were observed by C. A. Barlow, the guard, who ordered them to halt. No attention being paid to the demand, Barlow shot at Graham, the ball entering the upper part of the back and coming out of the center of the breast, killing him instantly. Brophey, an employee of the brickyard, gave chase to the other, and succeeded in capturing him just as he was about to swim Mill creek. He was at once overpowered with the assistance of George Collins and returned to the prison. A huge dirk knife was found concealed in his sleeve, which, his arm being pinioned by Brophey, he was unable to move. Graham was from Jacksonville, and considered a dangerous character.

RAILROAD WORK.

A Glance at the Great Operations in Progress in Northern Montana.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

CLARK'S FORK DIVISION, N. P. R. R.,
THE FRONT, July 3, 1882.

Can it be that the residents of Portland, or indeed of the entire Pacific northwest, have awakened to a realization of the rapidity with which this division of the road is being urged forward up the Clark's Fork? The usual stereotyped phrases, that "the work is being vigorously prosecuted"—"as fast as men and money can build it," etc., are not sufficiently comprehensive for a true appreciation of the magnitude and progress of the work in hand. Hence, to be more specific concerning the operations of construction, I will mention a few facts, sustained by reliable figures derived from a careful measurement of a continuous section of the line by competent engineers. However, a few prefatory remarks concerning the extent of progress, construction force, etc., may not be uninteresting.

The average working construction force at present numbers 5400, composed of 1400 white laborers and 800 Chinamen. During the months of May and June 25 miles of road bed has been graded, with the advance grading forces now working beyond Rock Island, a distance of nearly 37 miles from the crossing of Lake Pend d'Oreille, or nearly 26 miles within the territory of Montana from the Idaho boundary line.

Track laying had been suspended at the lower crossing of Clark's Fork, awaiting the recession of the river, whose unusually large volume carried immense quantities of drift timber—from the right of way clearing, etc.—hence unwise to attempt, for the time being, the completion of either the bridge or the false work to be used as a temporary bridge. However, the former is nearly finished, while the latter was completed on the 30th ult. On the 1st inst. nearly three miles of track were laid, completing it to Cabinet Landing.

To instance the thorough organization and training of the construction force of this department, besides demonstrating the fertility of resource of its able commander, Superintendent Hallett, I will mention the work upon what is known as the BIG CUT.

A large thorough cutting about a mile beyond or east of Cabinet. Its length is 809 feet, center hight 16 to 28 feet, averaging nearly 22 feet, containing over 24,000 cubic yards, composed, ¼ rock or compact slate formation, ¼ loose rock, such as boulders, etc., and the balance of sand and gravel. Experts who had examined this piece of work declared that under no circumstances could it be completed in less than from three to four months. But nevertheless Supt. Hallett promised that the work should be finished within fifty days, or in time to prevent any disarrangement of the plans for the work beyond. The preliminary work upon the cutting was commenced May 11th and completed June 28th. Engineers and contractors will concede that to accomplish a work of this magnitude within so limited a period, required the possession of a special talent for railway constructive work. Indeed, Supt. Hallett has almost revolutionized the old methods by the introduction and ingenious manner of application of giant powder and steam. The ground was first thoroughly undermined, by sinking a vertical shaft in the center of the cutting. The first blast fired, lifted bodily and threw out about two-fifths of the entire amount of material, and so shattered the adjoining portions as to render its removal less difficult. This operation was at intervals repeated; three derricks, operated by steam, were introduced, each derrick averaging from 30 to 40 hoists per hour, taking boxes with a capacity of about two-thirds of a cubic yard, and not infrequently lifting out boulders and huge fragments of blasted rocks weighing from two to three tons. The appearance presented while the work was in progress—the slopes honey-combed with galleries, while men, horses and derricks continuously moving with a precision almost military in its character, was a sight that would tempt a railway builder many miles out of his way to witness.

During the month of June, 1882, the following quantities have been moved: 58,749 cubic yards rock excavation, 107,372 yards earth excavation and 173,765 cubic yards embankment.

GRADE.

For a mountain road this portion of the line may be called the perfection of grade. For example, take a distance of sixty miles, say from near the mouth of the river to the second crossing, to which point the final locations have been made. Upon this section going east the maximum curvature does not exceed six degrees to the mile, while the average is but four degrees. The average grade east is but 20 feet, with the maximum at the Cabinet rock divide of 39½ feet to the mile, commencing two miles below and reaching the summit, 1½ miles beyond the town of Cabinet. Westward over the same section the maximum grade is but 26 feet to the mile. Thence east the grades are very light, practically none at all. Commencing 6 miles beyond Rock Island, or 28 miles from Cabinet, the grade ascends to an elevation of 280 feet upon a level bench one mile back from the river, upon which it continues to the second crossing. It will readily be seen that the most difficult portion of the line to construct upon the above 60 mile section has already been completed, hence it is safe to predict that nearly double the amount of mileage will be built during the next three months than at any like period in the history of the construction of the road.

TOPOGRAPHICAL FEATURES—SCENERY, ETC., OF THE CLARKE FORK.

Eight miles above Lake Pend d'Oreille the valley of the Clarke Fork contracts to a mere canyon, and with but occasionally slight stretches of benches and foothill slopes, presents the same conformation for a distance of nearly thirty miles; thence continuing easterly the valley gradually opens out to an average width of three miles, again contracting a little below the Thompson Falls, a further distance of twenty-five miles.

A dense forest of pine, tamarack and fir covers the valley, extending beyond the hills flanking it upon the south, while upon the north the hills are but partially timbered with a far greater diversity of outline, presenting every conceivable form of rugged beauty, heightened by the enlivening effects of the waters of the swiftly-flowing river at their immediate base.

The location of the railway upon the south side of the river through this particular section, renders it admirably adapted to most advantageously viewing the finer portion of this glorious mountain scenery of the Coeur d'Alene range, as ever-changing, but always grand, it unfolds with the graceful windings of the river an endless succession of pictures: Cabinet Rocks, Cabinet Gorge, the Blue Slide and innumerable other points of interest, so distinctively beautiful, unique and interesting as to fully repay a journey of many hundreds of miles. NOTES FROM THE FRONT.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

CABINET LANDING, W. T., July 6.

The Fourth was observed here by a fair display of bunting.

Mr. J. L. Hallett's birthday was celebrated at his residence by a fine dinner.

Supt. Hallett's headquarters are making arrangements to move from here during the coming week.

Saloons of Cabinet are packing up their bottles and barroom fixtures preparatory to moving to the front.

Mr. Frank Riffe, engineer for division of lines and his party are moving to Rock Island, some thirty miles east.

The infant son of Dr and Mrs. Burton, who has been very low with pneumonia, is now on the convalescent list.

The teamster Webster, who was so cruelly beaten over the head with a revolver by the rumseller Clark, is doing well.

Dr. Littlefield and S. O. Herman killed a large black bear weighing about four hundred pounds a few days ago about three miles from here.

Drs. Littlefield, Hope and S. O. Harmon enlivened patients at the hospital with some excellent string music, and Dr. Burton sang some select airs last week.

Cabinetteis will soon have another bride in their midst. Mr. Phie, one of the engineers, is soon going to shake off the shackles of batchelorhood and robe himself in the garb of matrimony.

I. G. Davidson, Portland's excellent photographer, took views of the hospital ward and dispensary. The negatives are good and, no doubt will make good views.

Two Chinamen were drowned between this place and Anckley's last week. Three celestials were coming down the river on a poorly constructed raft, and in attempting to make a landing resulted with above fatality.

Mike Gross, a foreman on the grade, lit two fuses of blasts. One went off all right, and after waiting for the other a reasonable length of time, he prodded the hole with a stick, when an explosion occurred, badly lacerating Mike's hand and badly powder-burning the same.

Frank Cordway sustained a severe fracture and dislocation of the ankle at Steamboat Landing. He was engaged in hauling logs for Halee's sawmill when he fell down a bank and a heavy log rolled on his leg, with the above result. He was taken to Fort Coeur d'Alene for treatment, owing to the distance to the company's hospital.

A German saloon keeper at camp 31 beat a grader over the head with a revolver, at which his comrades revenged the assault by ordering the saloon keeper to "git," and demolishing his saloon and merchandise. Verdict, served him right. Workmen are beginning to realize that the road can be built as well without as with these rum dens, and the sooner they are annihilated the better.

The Chinamen at camp 32 celebrated the Fourth by nearly beating to death their foreman, P. Touhey. Touhey had ordered one of the men home, when words ensued, which resulted in a mob attacking him who beat and bruised him with shovels and stones. Mr. Touhey is at the hospital and carefully cared for. His injuries, though many, are more painful than serious. In the evening several white graders attacked these same Chinamen for this assault and badly punished the ring leaders of the gang.

The dance on the steamer Henry Villard at the bridge crossing was a perfect success. The company was small but select. The steamer was most handsomely decorated with evergreens and bunting, and was certainly robed in its best holiday attire. The state rooms were cleared of all cumbersome furniture, giving plenty of room for dancing. Below, in the engine room, was spread the tables, which were loaded with choice viands and enticing palatables. Quite a company from Cabinet and Sand Point were present, and all expressed a pleasant time. Music was obtained from Ainsworth and was very good. Much credit is due to Mr. Fender, steward of the boat; Mr. Tibbetts, purser, for so elegantly decorating the steamer. Thanks are also due by all participants to the last two gentlemen and to Capt. Miller for their kind hospitality, and for doing all in their power to make the visitors welcome. At 3 in the morning the steamer started for Steamboat Landing, a distance of some thirty-five miles, which was reached in two hours and a half. At the landing visitors were eye witnesses to a first class excitement and your reporter with a good item. One of the hands of the boat had been imbibing a little too freely during the previous day, suddenly, without any warning, jumped off from the stern of the boat into the lake. Ropes were thrown him but he could not grasp them, though they came in contact with his face and hands. He finally disappeared under the boat, but the deck hands discovered him sitting on one of the paddles of the wheel. He was taken to the furnace and thoroughly dried. Nothing but a silly freak prompted him to take such a bath. In justice to lady excursionists there was no screaming nor hysterical scenes.

The mosquitoes at the crossing are very affectionate and good dunners as they present their bills every minute. When the train of excursionists arrived from Cabinet we felt flattered at the demonstrations of welcome we received from those on the wharf and the steamer by waving of handkerchiefs. A closer inspection proved that they were only driving away mosquitoes. Oil of pennyroyal is at par and in demand.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 11, 1882.

DECISION IN U. S. CIRCUIT COURT, BY DEADY, J.

U. S. Circuit Court—District of Oregon.

Saturday, July 1, 1882.

(1) PARTNERSHIP. A contract between three persons to operate a mining property as a company, creates a partnership of such persons from the date thereof, and makes each of them liable for the debts contracted in the prosecution of said enterprise, and this notwithstanding the fact that such contract also provides that there shall be no division of profits between the parties until two of them are reimbursed therefrom the money expended in the purchase of two-thirds of the property from the other one, and the cost of improving the same.

(2) MORTGAGE. The mortgagee of a mortgage to secure an antecedent debt is not regarded as a purchaser, and therefore, the lien of his mortgage will be postponed to that of a prior but unrecorded one.

(3) SUIT TO ENFORCE THE LIEN OF A MORTGAGE. In a suit to enforce the lien of a mortgage, a subsequent mortgagee, who is made defendant on that account, cannot set up a claim or have a decree against the plaintiff for the amount of his debt, upon the ground that the plaintiff is personally liable to him therefor, as partner of his mortgagor.

(4) PARTNERSHIP WITH A MEMBER OF ANOTHER PARTNERSHIP. Although A may be interested with B in his interest in a partnership consisting of B and two others, that does not make him a member of said last mentioned partnership.

DEADY, J.

This case was before the court (6 Saw. 598), on a motion by the plaintiff to remand it to the state circuit court for the county of Jackson, where it was commenced on June 18, 1879; and the statement of the case there made is now referred to. Afterwards, on May 2, 1881, exceptions for impertinence were allowed to certain portions of the reformed bill, including those relating to the Irwin note for $1,236 33 (erroneously printed in 6 Saw. as $3,123 33), the note to Kubli and Bolt for $86 48 signed by the plaintiff and the $88 34 due from Irwin to the plaintiff.

The cause is now argued and submitted on the pleadings, including the answers of the defendants Jesse Robinson, E. C. Robinson, John L. Robinson and C. Magruder for himself and partner Benjamin Haymond, and the testimony and exhibits—the defendants A. W. Hawkett, William W. Irwin, William Smith, Kasper Kubli, John Bolt, James F. Gazley, A. A. Fink and Thomas Robinson having failed to answer.

It appears that on October 15, 1877, James Neely, as administrator of the estate of Evan Taylor, deceased, sold to the plaintiff, William Bybee, a certain mining property known as "the Taylor claims," situate in Josephine county, Oregon, and described as lot 5 in section 35, of township 35 south, range 7 west, and two water rights and ditches appurtenant thereto, for the sum of $3100—there being an agreement at the time between said Bybee and William Smith and William Irwin that the latter should each be entitled to a conveyance of an undivided one-third of the property upon the payment to Bybee of one-third of the cost thereof, and that in the meantime they would work the mine together, which they did for about 6 months.

On March 1, 1878, Bybee bought out Smith for $500 and gave him his note for the amount payable in two years.

On July 26, 1878, Neely, by order of the proper court and in pursuance of the sale aforesaid, conveyed the premises to Bybee, who on the same day sold and conveyed an undivided two-thirds thereof to the defendants, A. W. Hawkett and E. C. Robinson, and on the same day and as a part of the transaction said Bybee entered into a written agreement with said Hawkett and Robinson in the words and to the effect following:

"That whereas the party of the first part [Bybee] has sold to the parties of the second part [Hawkett and Robinson] the undivided two-thirds of certain mining property in Josephine county, Oregon, known as the Taylor claims, and said parties agree to mine and operate said mining property as a company; and as a consideration for said two-thirds interest the said parties of the second part are to pay certain debts. It is therefore agreed as follows: That said parties of the second part agree to pay and assume $6098 24 in the following debts, to-wit: To James Neely, admr. of Evan Taylor's estate, $2784 56; Kasper Kubli, $382 68; Dan. Green, $500; William Smith, $500; and agree to pay to William Bybee $1432. The said amounts to be paid down or arranged upon such time as may be agreed on between the parties of the second part and the persons to whom said debts are due."

The agreement then further provided: (1.) That the "parties of the second part agree to put on said claims at their own expense such improvements and additional machinery as may be necessary;" (2.) That all the "amounts above mentioned and also the cost of any additional improvements which may be put onto said claims are to be repaid to said parties of the second part out of the profits taken out of said mines when the same shall be taken out and before any dividends shall be made to the members of said company;" (3.) "That the profits of said mines after repaying the amount of said debts and the cost of said improvements shall be equally divided between the then members of said company aforesaid;" and, (4), "That said property and "the improvements which shall be hereafter put on said claims are to be held as a lien and security for the payment of the debts above specified."

This agreement was executed at Jacksonville, Oregon, by Hawkett, for himself and E. C. Robinson, who was then at Oakland, California, with his father, the defendant, Jesse Robinson. The defendant C. Magruder, was also present and paid out for E. C. Robinson upon the purchase of the property, to Neely, $2784 56, the balance due from Bybee to the administrator on the sale of the property to him in October, 1877, to Bybee $432, to Kasper Kubli a check upon E. C. Robinson for $500, which was duly paid. At the same time that Hawkett and Robinson purchased from Bybee it was arranged to buy out Irwin's equity for $2500, which was paid as follows:—$500 by Hawkett in cash furnished by E. C. Robinson; by receipt for $500 due Magruder from Irwin on account and by the undertaking of Hawkett and Bybee to pay $86 48 due said Kubli from Irwin and of Hawkett to pay $88 34 due from Irwin to Bybee.

"For the balance of the sum due Bybee, Hawkett for himself and Robinson gave a promissory note for $1000 payable to the order of Bybee one day after date with interest at one per centum per month, and for the balance due Kubli they gave a similar note for $382 68 with Bybee as surety. Nothing has been paid on these notes by Hawkett or Robinson nor upon the sums due Green and Smith as aforesaid.

The sums due Green and Smith have since been paid by Bybee and on December 2, 1879, Kubli obtained a judgment for $480 15 on the note given him for $382 68 which Bybee satisfied on July 6, 1881.

Hawkett and E. C. Robinson commenced operations on the mine in September, 1878—digging a ditch of some length and putting up a giant and pipe furnished by Jesse Robinson, from California.

About the first of January they commenced to work the mine, and in that month Jesse Robinson visited the mine and remained there until the following spring, giving more or less direction to its management.

The mine did not prove remunerative, and Hawkett, who had put his skill and services as a miner into the venture against Robinson's money, on March 17 1879, withdrew from the company and conveyed his third of the property to E. C. Robinson for the nominal consideration of $5000.

On May 13, 1879, E. C. Robinson mortgaged the undivided two-thirds of the premises to the defendants, Magruder and Haymond, to secure the payment of his note of the same date, made payable to said defendants 30 days after date for the sum of $2295 with interest at the rate of one per centum per month; which mortgage was duly recorded on May 15, 1879.

On May 14, 1879, E. C. Robinson again mortgaged the same interest in the premises to the defendant, Jesse Robinson, to secure the payment of his note of the same date made payable to said defendants, 30 days after date, for the sum of $4275, with interest at the rate of one per centum per month; which mortgage was duly recorded on the same day; and on July 16, 1879, said Jesse Robinson assigned said last mentioned note and mortgage to his brother, the defendant, John L. Robinson of Tioga county, Pa., for the sum of $4300.

This suit has now diminished to a proceeding to enforce the agreement of July 26, 1878, including the lien provided therein as a security for the payment of the debts therein specified. There is also an allegation left in the bill that the Robinsons did not truly account for the gold dust taken out of the mine and a prayer for an account. The answers of the defendants E. C. and Jesse Robinson state that only $2800 was taken out up to the commencement of this suit, when the mine passed into the hands of a receiver, where it has since remained, all of which and much more was expended in improving and working the mine; and whatever the fact may be, the evidence to the contrary is vague, trifling and scarcely worthy of consideration.

The agreement of July 26 1878 is practically a personal obligation of Hawkett and E. C. Robinson and also Jesse Robinson, if he was a partner with them in the purchase of the mine, as the plaintiff alleges, to pay the debts therein specified and also a mortgage of the property to secure such payment.

The personal liability of E. C. Robinson and Hawkett, in case the property is not sufficient to pay the debts is admitted, but that of Jesse Robinson depends upon the fact whether or not he was a partner with Hawkett and E. C. Robinson, in the purchase, on July 26, 1878. He was not known in the transaction as such. Bybee did not give him credit or part with anything upon the faith of his being responsible for it as a partner or otherwise. But he now alleges that Jesse Robinson was a secret partner in the purchase, and the burden of proof is upon him to establish the fact, before he can hold him responsible as such.

The evidence upon this point is conflicting and largely made up of admissions by members of the company to the effect that J. R. was a partner which are clearly inadmissible for that purpose (1 Green, Ev. § 177), and the casual and indefinite conversations and remarks of J. R. concerning the management and prospect of the business while he was at the mine, which might have proceeded from the fact that he was interested as a partner or as the father of E. C. R. and the principal creditor of the company.

Hawkett is the only witness that testifies that J. R. ever said he was a partner in the purchase of the mine, and his statement is to the effect that J. R. was the real party in interest, but that he did not want to be known in the matter. But his credibility is affected somewhat by the fact that he may be now trying to shift the responsibility of a losing adventure undertaken upon his judgment and recommendation, and is very much affected by the further fact, that on May 11, 1879 he deliberately wrote to a person seeking to collect one of the debts specified in the agreement of July 26, 1878, that J. R. had no interest in the matter, except that he had loaned him and E. C. R. money to open the mine with.

Both E. C. R. and J. R. deny in their answers that the latter was a partner in the purchase or working of the mine, and the evidence of the plaintiff is not sufficient to establish the partnership against these denials, if at all.

It may be and probably is true, that there was some private agreement or understanding between the father and the son by which the former was interested with the latter in this adventure, and that so far they sustained to one another the relation of partners instead of that of debtor and creditor, but that would not make J. R. a partner of the firm of Hawkett and E. C. Robinson or Hawkett, Robinson and Bybee. No one can become a member of a firm without the knowledge and consent of all the partners. Collyer on Part., 5.

The agreement of July 26, 1878, was not recorded until May 30, 1879, and subsequent to the execution and record of the mortgages to Magruder and Haymond and Jesse Robinson, but before the assignment of the latter to John L. Robinson. But both these mortgages and this assignment were made in consideration of previous indebtedness, and therefore, the mortgagees and assignee are not entitled to be regarded as purchasers. Besides, such mortgagees must be held upon the proof to have had actual knowledge of the lien provided for in the agreement of July 26, and therefore took their mortgages in subordination thereto, irrespective of the question of priority of record. The assignee had constructive notice of this lien also, when he took his assignment, as the agreement had then been admitted to record. Jones on Mort., §458 and note.

These conclusions are admitted by counsel for the defendants, E. C. R. and J. R., but he also claims that Bybee was a partner in the working of this mine, from the date, and by virtue of the agreement of July 26, and that so much of the debt due M. and H. as arose from the furnishing of supplies to the company, Bybee, as a member thereof, is personally liable for, and therefore, his lien upon this property or the proceeds of it, ought to be subject in this suit to the satisfaction of this claim. It is admitted that the debt for which the mortgage was given to J. R. is not a demand against the company, it being wholly for money and material furnished Hawkett and E. C. R. to enable them to open and improve the mine as per their agreement with Bybee. It is also admitted that $500 of the debt for which the mortgage was given to M. and H. is not a demand against the company; it being the sum advanced by Magruder to Irwin for E. C. R. on the purchase of his interest in the mine—the advance being made by the settlement of an account of that amount which Irwin owed Magruder.

The remaining $1795 of this debt it is claimed by Magruder in his answer was due from "Hawkett and E. C. Robinson" or "the company mentioned in said agreement of July 26" "for goods, provisions, etc., furnished to said company and for freighting done by said firm of M. and H. for said firm or company of the Josephine mine" prior to May 13, 1879.

This is indefinite as to whether the goods and freighting were furnished to Hawkett and Robinson while opening the mine or to Bybee, Hawkett and Robinson while operating it. In the first case Bybee would not be liable under any circumstances. No testimony has been offered on the subject except the answer of Magruder, and that is not satisfactory. In the nature of things these supplies and this freighting would be furnished to improve the mine as well as to operate it. The burden of proof is I think upon M. and H. to show that these things were furnished to a company of which Bybee was a member. Besides, the fact that he settled with E. C. Robinson, who then represented Hawkett as well as himself, and took his individual note for the amount and a mortgage upon his individual interest in the mine as security without paying any attention to Bybee, or his interest, is a circumstance tending to show that Magruder did not then regard the debt as due from Bybee.

On the other hand counsel for the plaintiff insist that Bybee was not by the terms of the agreement of July 26, to become a partner with H. and R. until the proceeds of the mine had reimbursed them for the money expended in its purchase and improvement; which it is admitted it never did.

In my judgment, the agreement created a partnership from its date, consisting of Hawkett, Robinson and Bybee for the purpose of operating the mine, and that whenever it was operated by any or either of them they all became liable for the debts thereby incurred. And the fact that a division of profits between the partners was postponed until the money advanced by Hawkett and Robinson for the purchase of a two-thirds interest and the improvement of the whole of it, does not affect the unqualified agreement of the parties in words of the present tense—"to mine and operate said mining property as a company."

In Beauregard v. Case, 91 U. S., 134, a question of partnership arose under very similar circumstances. In the course of the opinion of the court delivered by Mr. Justice Field, it is said:—"There was in this agreement all the essential conditions for the creation of a partnership—provision for a union of services and money and a division of profits and losses. The postponement of a division of profits between the three partners until the capital advanced by two of them should be refunded, with interest, did not alter the character of the agreement, as one of partnership, nor the liability of all the partners to third persons for debts contracted in the prosecution of its business."

But admitting the partnership and assuming that this debt is a valid demand against the firm, and that therefore Bybee is liable therefor, I do not see how M. and H. can set up their claim in this suit.

So far as Bybee is concerned this is a suit to enforce the agreement of July 26 as a personal contract against H. and E. C. R. and as a mortgage against the property. M. and H. are not parties to it, nor have they any rights in it except by reason of the lien of their mortgage—and that to have their mortgage adjudged valid and assigned its proper place in the order of time and payment.

But it is admitted that it is subsequent in point of time to that of the plaintiff's, and that its payment out of the proceeds of this property, as a debt secured by a lien thereon must be deferred until that is satisfied. But the defendants have no standing in this suit or right in this property except as mortgagees, and that is subordinate to the plaintiff's. This is not a suit to recover anything from the defendants M. and H. and in which they can therefore plead a counter claim or set off. Neither can they, if they would, convert their answer into a species of cross bill and subject the sum which the plaintiff may obtain in this suit to enforce his mortgage against the property in question, to the satisfaction of an independent personal claim which they may have against him.

If they wish to enforce such a claim against him as a member of the partnership created by the agreement of July 26, the courts are open to them to bring their action against him for that purpose.

The plaintiff paid the balance of the debt to Kubli of $382 68 as follows: He signed the note of Hawkett and Robinson therefore as surety drawing interest at one per centum per month, upon which Kubli obtained judgment which the plaintiff paid. And he now seeks to recover what he paid on that judgment including interest, costs and attorney fee rather than the original amount with legal interest.

But the liability of H. and E. C. R. arises upon the agreement of July 26, which is to pay the debt specified therein with such interest as the law will allow thereon, none being agreed upon, and the costs properly chargeable against them in this suit for its collection. Whether the plaintiff has gained or lost in his contract as surety or in the acquisition of these claims is nothing to the defendants. As has been said, their liability in this suit is measured by the agreement of July 26.

The plaintiff on his own account and as the representative of the other creditors mentioned in said agreement has the first lien upon this property for the sum of $2382 68, the aggregate sum of said claims with interest thereon at the legal rate, to wit: 10 per centum per annum from July 26, 1878 to January 25, 1880, a period of 1 year and 6 months and at 8 per centum from then to July 1, 1882, making in all the sum of $3113 36, together with the costs and expenses of this suit, except as to the defendants against whom the bill is dismissed.

The defendants, M. and H. have the second lien upon the undivided two thirds of the property for the full amount of their note and mortgage with interest as therein provided and the costs of their defence.

The defendant, John L. Robinson as the assignee of Jesse Robinson has the third lien upon said undivided two thirds of said property for the full amount of his note and mortgage with interest as therein provided and the costs of his defence.

The decree of the court will be that the bill be dismissed as to the defendants who are not liable to the plaintiff in this suit and have no interest in the subject of it, namely: Jesse Robinson, Thomas Robinson, William W. Irwin, William Smith, Kasper Kubli, John Bolt, James F. Gazley and A. A. Fink and that they and each of them recover costs from the plaintiff—that the master of this court sell this property as upon an execution at law and apply the proceeds, after paying the costs and expenses of the sale upon the claims aforesaid in the order specified.

B. F. Dowell and Walter W. Thayer for the plaintiff, E. C. Bronaugh, for the defendants Robinsons and Magruder.

U. S. Circuit Court, District of Oregon.

MONDAY, July 10, 1882.

W. S. Chapman v. E. P. Ferry and Eugene White. No. 748. Suit in equity for infringement of copyright.

(1) DISCOVERY. A demurrer will lie to an allegation in a bill, the answer to which may subject the defendant to anything in the nature of a penalty or forfeiture—as an allegation concerning the number of copies sold and on hand of a pirated map.

(2) PENALTIES AND FORFEITURES. The penalties and forfeitures given by §4965 of the R. S. (17 Stat. 214), for an infringement of a copyright, cannot be enforced in a suit in equity; and a prayer in a bill, that the plate and unsold copies of a pirated map be delivered up to an officer of the court for cancellation and destruction is demurrable, as asking the enforcement of such forfeiture.

(3) DAMAGES. Damages as well as profits may now be recovered in a suit in equity, for an infringement of a patent but not a copyright.

DEADY, J.

This suit is brought to obtain an injunction restraining the defendants from infringing the copyright of a "Map of the cities of Portland and East Portland and the town of Albina, Oregon," compiled and published by plaintiff; and for an account of sales.

The bill states in detail the steps taken by the plaintiff in 1874-5 to obtain the copyright of the map and his ownership thereof ever since—the infringement of the same by the defendants on May 10, 1881, by the publication of 500 copies of a map entitled "Map of the cities of Portland and East Portland and the town of Albina, Oregon;" and alleges that the same is substantially a copy of the plaintiff's and an infringement of his copyright; that the defendants have sold 300 copies of said map at $5 a copy to the damage of the plaintiff $3000, and is still the owner of the plate upon which the same were printed and the 200 copies remaining unsold, which they continue to offer for sale.

The prayer of the bill is that the defendants may "answer all and singular the matters and things" set forth therein and that they be required to surrender the copies on hand and the plate to an officer of this court "to be cancelled and destroyed."

The defendants demur to so much and such parts of the bill as seek to have a discovery as to the number of copies of their map sold or on hand, because the same will subject them to penalties and forfeitures as provided in § 4965 of the R. S.

It is well established that a defendant may "demur to a discovery which may subject him to anything in the nature of a penalty or forfeiture." (Stor. E. P., § 583); and by the section of the R. S. aforesaid, the defendants are made liable to forfeit to the plaintiff the plate upon which their map was printed and every sheet thereof, and also to pay a penalty of $1 for every sheet found in their possession.

Apparently then, the demurrer is well taken; but counsel for the plaintiff contends that this is not a bill of discovery, and that nothing is sought to be discovered from the defendants in that respect. But it is said on good authority that every bill for relief is in reality a bill for discovery, since it asks from the defendant an answer as to all the matters charged therein, (Stor. E. P., § 311); and by the same authority an answer must confess, avoid, deny or traverse all the material parts of the bill. Id. § 852.

The prayer for the surrender of the plate and printed copies on hand is also demurrable.

The forfeitures and penalties given by § 4965 of the R. S. (17 stat. 214), are not enforceable in a court of equity in the absence of an express statute to that effect. To recover the forfeiture and penalties given by this section for the infringement of his copyright the plaintiff must resort to an action at law. Stevens v. Cady, 2 Curt. 200; Stevens v. Gladding, 17 How. 453. Admitting this, however, counsel for the plaintiff insists that the surrender of these articles as prayed for is not an enforcement of the forfeiture of them to the plaintiff, but only a means of enforcing the decree for a permanent injunction. No authority is cited for this distinction.

To require the defendants to surrender their plate and copies of map for destruction will effectually enforce the forfeiture as against them, and in favor of the plaintiff so far and in the mode he desired. In fact, upon the delivery of the articles to the officer of this court for the purpose desired, the forfeiture is there and thereby enforced against the defendants—their right in and to the property is divested and it is disposed of with the consent of the plaintiff.

On the argument, counsel for the defendants also assigned, ore tenus, as a cause of demurrer to so much of the bill as alleged the amount of damages sustained by the plaintiff on account of the infringement, that damages are not recoverable in a court of equity and the relief is limited to an account and recovery of the profits made by the defendants on the sale of the infringing map.

This was the rule in patent cases until the passage of the act of July 8, 1870, when by §55 of that act (16 Stat. 206; §4921 of the R. S.) it was provided that in a suit of equity when a decree is given for an infringement the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover not only profits made by the defendant but the damages he has sustained thereby. Curt. Pat., §341; Williams v. Leonard, 9 Blatch., 476; Andrews v. Cregan, 7 Fed. Rep., 478.

But the provisions of the act of July 8, 1870, concerning patents, do not appear to be applicable to copyrights which are provided for separately in the sections from 85 to 110 inclusive.

By §106 jurisdiction is given to the courts of the United States of suits and actions arising under "the copyright laws of the United States," and power is given them to grant injunctions according to the course and principles of courts of equity—an incident of which, is a right to an account of profits. Stevens v. Gladding, 17 How., 450. But no provision is made, as in §55, supra, concerning cases arising under "the patent laws of the United States" for the recovery of damages as well as profits in a suit in equity. The reason for this distinction between subjects so nearly identical in their nature and origin is not apparent, but the statute has made it and the courts must observe it.

The demurrer is sustained.

H. Y. Thompson, for the plaintiff.
Frederick V. Holman, for the defendant.

Illinois Crops.

SPRINGFIELD, July 9.—State department of agriculture reports to July 1st say the winter wheat crop seldom if ever promised a more abundant yield. The quality is excellent. Crop has been harvested in the southern and most of the central counties. New wheat is being marketed as fast as it can be threshed. Continued rain interfered with harvesting in central Illinois, making it impossible in many instances to use reapers on account of soft condition of the ground. As a result farmers resolved to cradle, and there is danger of grain being damaged by sprouting before it can be successfully stacked. General condition in the state is 6 per cent above average.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Denver Mining Exposition Nearly Ready for Opening.

HEAVY STORMS DAMAGING NEBRASKA AND KANSAS CROPS.

Trouble Between the Union League and Cameron's Men in Pennsylvania—Tales of Horror Told by Refugees at St. Louis.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—The 250 Russian exiles who arrived here yesterday morning are being cared for by a local committee. All are destitute. Some of them tell terrible stories of their treatment in their native land. An old man said: "Two months ago I saw my own daughter, a girl 15 years old, taken by a mob and outraged so that at night she died. Other women of our family were at the sport of the mob for hours. My brother's wife, a young woman of 20, was outraged and then whipped to death by a drunken crowd of devils. So with every family. You can't find one in the house who has not lost some one. They spared neither old nor young. Children ten or twelve years old were treated as badly as those much older. People in villages suffered most. Here no policemen pretend to help Jews. Women were carried out into fields, stripped naked and burned. Old men had their beards pulled out and thrown alive into privy vaults to stifle. Young girls were branded and scarred with red-hot irons and everything that drunken brutes could think of done to torture our people." Here he went into details of bestiality unfit for publication, showing how women were whipped and scorched after Jew haters had robbed them of all that made life worth living. The story was of such savage, obscene cruelty that American ears would not credit the details as more than the ravings of a madman. All tell the same story.

Denver's Great Exposition.

DENVER, Col., July 11.—The main building for the mining and industrial exposition is about completed and articles for exhibition are arriving in considerable quantities. The work of arranging exhibits will be commenced next week. All departments will be well represented. The machinery department will be exceptionally large, having nearly a hundred entries. There will be no delay in opening on August 1st. The fine art department will be the most complete and will contain about 400 works of high order of merit by American and foreign artists.

Colorado Press Association.

DENVER, July 11.—At a meeting of the Colorado Press association to-day Col. John Atkins of the Rocky Mountain News was elected president, W. E. Faber secretary, Grayson McArthur corresponding secretary, and L. H. Tilvey treasurer. Fifty new members were elected. Capt. J. T. Smith delivered the oration. Eugene Field read a poem, after which they banqueted at the St. James hotel. The association accepted the courtesies extended by the C. B. & Q. railway, and about 75 members, with ladies, leave to-night for Chicago to be absent a week.

Trouble in Camp.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Philadelphia special: The apathy of the Union league is another snag in the Beaver campaign. Its members have been offended by Cameron snubbing them relative to an appointment in this city, and President Arthur giving more weight to Cameron than them. They have dropped their activity and refused to give money. As there are 900 influential men and many other influences at work against Beaver, he is not likely to have a smooth campaign.

Damaging Freshet.

LEBANON, (O.), July 11.—A very heavy rainfall yesterday afternoon raised Turtle creek to an unprecedented height. The reservoir of the hydraulic works broke its banks and the lower portion of the city is inundated. Several small houses were carried away and all the bridges in that part of the city were washed out. Thousands of sheaves of newly cut wheat were floated off. The loss is variously estimated from $50,000 to $100,000.

Storms in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—A very high wind storm passed over Marysville, Kansas, on the St. Joseph & Western railroad, 100 miles west of St. Joseph, about 10 o'clock A. M. From the fact that wires are all prostrated it is thought serious damage was done to the town. A heavy storm also prevailed at Lincoln, Nebraska, and through that section of country, but as telegraph communication was stopped there also, no particulars can be obtained.

An Editorial Fight.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.—John B. Gaines, editor of the World, and Col. Sears, of the Post emptied revolvers at each other this afternoon as a result of an editorial controversy. The only result was a slight wound in Sears' foot, and two bullets under the skin of an unoffending witness of the fusilade. Both were arrested.

An Insane Murder.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 11.—Frank Cobb, residing in the township of Texas, Mich., who has been six months in the insane asylum in California, stepped up to the breakfast table yesterday, drew back his younger brother's head and nearly severed it from the body with a razor, causing instant death.

Storms in Nebraska.

HASTINGS, Neb., July 11.—Several hail storms in this vicinity early this morning broke all glass in north windows, injured crops and fruit considerably within its limited circuit, unroofed the depot and elevator at Glenville, and overturned the school house. A strong wind prevailed for a time, and the elevator at Kenesaw was considerably racked.

Congressional Nominations.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—The Republican Congressional Convention of the eighteenth Illinois district nominated Col. W. C. Kueffer for congress. This is Morrison's new district, and is believed to have 500 republican majority.

Hanged.

CLINTON (N. C.), July 11.—Phillip Hodson was hanged here this afternoon for the murder of Henry Sellers. A great crowd was present at the scaffold, which was in an open field. Hodson never flinched. The drop was five feet.

A Distinguished Arrival.

NEW ORLEANS, July 11.—General Barrios, president of Guatemala, arrived last evening. A salute was fired and committee of reception consisting of the mayor and other prominent citizens welcomed the president and party.

Fearful Fishermen.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 11.—Excitement among fishermen is caused by preparation to put a steamer into the mackerel catching trade. The fish to be manufactured into oil and guano. It is feared the mackerel will be driven off as manhaden have been.

Archery Contest at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 11.—The national archery tournament began this morning at Lincoln park. 48 ladies and a large number of gentlemen participating. Miss Morrison, of Cottage Hill, Cincinnati, won the highest honors of the sixty yard range.

Killed by Logs.

CINCINNATI, July 11.—During a storm last evening two coal shovelers on a barge at the river bank were struck by logs and instantly killed.

STRIKES.

The Cohoes Strike.

COHOES, N. Y., July 11.—The Harmony mills lay-out, which began three months ago, continues. Of 5000 striking employes of Harmony mills, not more than 100 are now available to start the work. The relief committee funds were exhausted Saturday, and if evictions are forced upon company tenants, the suffering of operatives will be great.

Strike at New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 11.—Three hundred hands in the wire mills have struck, owing to notice that hereafter payments would be made fortnightly instead of weekly.

JERSEY CITY, July 11.—Michael Hart and Jesse Wild, striking freight handlers,—the latter of Pittsburg, have been arrested on the charge of boycotted grocers, who charged conspiracy. Wild and Hart placed themselves near the grocery admonishing customers not to enter.

All Quiet at South Chicago.

SOUTH CHICAGO, July 11.—Everything is quiet at the mills of the Calumet iron and steel company this morning, although a large crowd have gathered around the depot awaiting arrival of trains. Preparations are being made to start up three of the sixteen furnaces with non-union men. Officers of the company are here, and there is a large force of police on hand. About fifty specials have been sworn in. Union men claim they will not make any trouble.

Mexican Matters.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Post dispatch Matamoras special: Captain Alvero and Major Cordova, officers of the second regiment, fought a duel at San Luis Potosi, and the former was killed on the spot. The latter died soon after.

Part of the second corps of gendarmes fought banditti under Manuel Gormez, near La Media Luna, in Jalisco, yesterday, and Manuel and Jose Gormez, leaders, and seven other banditti, were killed. The balance scattered.

The Unattached Voter Is Abroad.

Boston Journal, Rep.

The number of unattached voters, of men who have a fashion of thinking for themselves, who have sincere and perhaps some times, whimsical notions about "getting the best" in platforms and candidates, and who are not so strongly held by party ties that they can be counted on to sacrifice their convictions, is very large and is growing very fast.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 11.

Morrill, from finance committee, reported favorably the senate bill repealing so much of section 3385 of revised statutes as imposes charge upon export stamps on tobacco. Placed on calendar.

Groome, from committee on pensions, reported a bill to prevent payment of double pensions.

Senate finance committee adopted an amendment in the internal revenue bill changing date from May, 1882, to October, 1882, when provisions of the bill relating to stamps taken on bank checks, drafts, orders, and vouchers, matches and other articles embraced in the schedule shall go into effect.

Conference on the bank charter extension bill was agreed to.

House.

House went into committee on the sundry civil bill.

Amendment was adopted authorizing the establishment of an industrial Indian school on the Pawnee reservation, Nebraska.

An amendment offered by Atkins, of Tennessee, for the purpose of continuing preparations of the geological map of the U. S., gave rise to extended discussion as to the propriety of extending geological surveys into states, or of limiting it to the survey of public lands. Amendment was finally agreed to.

Willits, of Michigan, moved to increase the appropriation for the geological survey from $120,000 to $720,000. Adopted. After completing the consideration of sixty-eight of the pages of the bill the committee rose and the house adjourned.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

Trouble Likely to Arise Over Commodore Shufeldt's Action in the Corean Matter—Cholera at Yokohama—China and Russia at Swords' Points—Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The following news is received per steamer Gaelic:

YOKOHAMA, June 23.—Latest advices indicate that Commodore Shufeldt's treaty with Corea promises more complications than any other recent act of eastern diplomacy. It was originally so managed, under Chinese influences, as to inflict a petty affront upon Japan by producing the impression that no convention with Corea is legitimate unless negotiated through Chinese guidance and authority, throwing discredit upon an earlier treaty between Corea and Japan. It was also contrived with a view of enforcing the favorite Chinese theory of suzerainty over all neighboring Asiatic states. Tsung Li Yamen, was elated at having made Shufeldt a convenient instrument for their purpose, and their satisfaction might have been lasting but for Shufeldt's letter impeaching the empress's private character, publication of which makes Pekin authorities as anxious to repudiate all connection with him and his performances as they were to avail themselves of his agency. It is now a question if any of these countries directly, or indirectly concerned will be content to abide by Shufeldt's action. First, China's grievance is deep against him; next, it is currently reported in open ports of China that a telegram was sent from Washington to Shufeldt, instructing him to do nothing in the Corean business until after the arrival of the new American minister to China. The inference is the telegram arrived too late. The fact of its transmission shows the U. S. government doubted Shufeldt's qualifications for the work required. Japan, moreover, having been the first nation to open relations with Corea, and feeling a species of responsibility for that kingdom's external relations, shows concern that a secret compact should be made after Japan had once been given to understand that her co-operation would be valued. Japan's point on behalf of Corea, is that the treaty shows but little advance in spirit upon that executed between the United States and Japan twenty five years ago, notwithstanding the United States have displayed constantly increasing liberality of intention in dealing with Asiatic nations. Japan professes to be actuated by sincere good will for Corea, and to doubt that China has any motive but that of selfish regard for her own interests. As regards American relations, it will have to be first definitely settled whether Corea means to be absolutely independent or not. If not, any treaty is useless. If she is independent, the admissions and acknowledgements in the Shufeldt treaty would seem to invalidate that document. Other foreign representatives in China now appear disposed to await further developments before following Shufeldt's example, with exception of the British, who have imitated him with considerable exactness. Sir Thomas Wade, who had prepared to visit Corea, remained at Tien Tsin and allowed Admiral Willes with a subordinate secretary of the British legation to proceed with the actual work of negotiation. The treaty is said to be in most respects identical with Shufeldt's and was signed June 6th, and Admiral Willes went to Yokohama, while the secretary returned to Wade, in China.

It is reported a Corean envoy will be appointed to Washington. An official named Kin is being spoken of for the post. Several years of his life were passed in America, having been rescued from a disabled Corean ship and carried to San Francisco. He came to Japan and was taken into government employ in opening relations between Japan and Corea eight years ago. Since that date his people have recognized his usefulness and his experience has been utilized in numerous directions.

A Japanese newspaper correspondent reports a conspiracy against the life of the Corean king has been discovered and suppressed, instigated by parties hostile to the progressive measures sanctioned by that monarch.

HONGKONG, June 12.—The Peking government has formally protested against the recent French invasion and spoliation of Annam. Troubles between Chinese and Russian officials in Central Asia increase, and hostilities are reported imminent. Authorities at Peking express the conviction that the difficulty should be smoothed over without an outbreak. Reports were recently circulated that the old disagreement between Japan and China, respecting the Loo Choo islands, has been adjusted. Japan finds it impossible to listen to further requirements of China.

A cholera epidemic prevails at Yokohama.

Ningpo pirates still defy Chinese forces. Outlaws were victorious in a recent fight with troops.

A hurricane at Timon caused great destruction. The steamer Bonde foundered and many native vessels were wrecked, and houses, trees and crops destroyed.

A Philadelphia man had a miserable yellow cur of no use to anyone and very dangerous: but he had no way of getting rid of the brute's body if he killed him, and besides a pistol shot would start the neighbors to asking questions. There being no other way out of the dilemma, he bought the cur a 25 cent collar and engraved a name on it. Within two days the dog was stolen and has not been seen since.—Philadelphia News.

EASTERN FREIGHT SITUATION.

NEW YORK, July 11.—There is no apparent change in the freight handlers' strike, and deliveries of goods are very slow, thus delaying business in all directions, and especially ships loading for San Francisco, which are always in receipt of more or less out of town freight. The Palmyra is the most advanced vessel on berth, but it will be several days before she can go away. Rates are unchanged, but there is some weakness shown. The demand for grain and petroleum vessels has somewhat reduced the supply of tonnage in port. However, neither of the California lines are in want. Isthmus freights are still as usual. Yesterday's steamer had for California 280 bbls resin and a few packages of miscellaneous goods, also 558 bales of sheeting for Chili.

A Live Camp.

Winnemucca (Nev.) Silver State.

A gentleman who has been engaged in gathering statistics in Nevada for the government writes from Knoxville, Tenn: "Among the statistics I was gathering in reference to Pioche is this: 'Pioche has the graves of 110 murdered men—43 in one row called Murderers' Row.' Colorado claims that the above is incorrect and that Pioche has been overrated. Colorado claims to have the 'boss planting ground' for men." Pioche has been underrated rather than overrated in this respect. During the early days and lively times the miners employed by several of our companies never thought of going to work without the sixteen shooter by their side, and the companies employed men at $20 per day whose only labor to perform was to fight when occasion required it. A pitched battle once took place between the forces of the Phœnix and the Raymond & Ely companies in a drift 400 feet below the surface. This camp had such a bloody name in early days that our citizens could not even travel in this state but what the people would stare at them in wonder, as though they were some kind of wild beast. The people in Colorado don't know what a live camp is.

The Gist of the Egyptian Question.

Philadelphia Times.

England's immediate interest in the struggle between the khedive and Arabi Bey is not confined to the question of the future administration of the Egyptian finances under the decree which gave England and France full control of that department. England has acquired controlling proprietary rights in the Suez canal which is now the indispensable route to her Indian dependencies, and though she has no rights of sovereignty over the isthmus she is justified in taking the initiative for the protection of so important an international highway. The threat of Arabi to send two regiments to drain the canal or obstruct navigation leaves England no recourse but to provide for the immediate and effective repression of any such attempt.

Some sage has observed that "it was better to have lived and been old when the world was young, than to live now, though young, when the world is old." Be that as it may, we would not care to live anywhere without being insured against rheumatism, unless we had a supply of that never failing remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. Mr. Joseph Fihe, No. 320 Preston street, corner of Walnut, Louisville, Ky., says: "I have used St. Jacobs Oil in my family for two years past, and have never found anything that it would not cure: there must, of course, be some limit to its powers, but I have not reached it yet, and I can say that I do not believe there are any muscular ailments, nervousness or inflammation that it will fail to cure. My boy Theodore fell down and sprained his foot; it swelled to two or three times its usual size. I applied St. Jacobs Oil and in half a day he was well as ever. It cured me of rheumatism and my wife of neuralgia.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Prospect of Adjournment of Congress Dependent on the Tariff Debate.

STAR ROUTE MATTERS ACQUIRE A NEW IMPETUS.

Senator Kellogg of Louisiana Said to be Implicated—Agricultural Reports From the Country at Large.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The sun glared fiercely upon the marble walls of the capitol to-day, as if to serve notice upon congressmen within it was time to quit work and give summer resorts a chance. Senator Butler strolled out into the office of the secretary of state this afternoon, where the thermometer registered 100 in the shade, mopped the perspiration from his face, and muttered, "Let her sizzle. I wish it was fifteen degrees hotter. This weather is the only thing that will drive us out of town."

"What time do you think congress will adjourn if amendments to the internal revenue bill agreed upon by the republican caucus are put through?" asked your correspondent.

"Oh, somewhere about the 20th of August or first of September," was the reply. "Beck is good for a speech that will occupy one week. Morrill will take another, and the Lord only knows what Morgan, Call, and the other orators will do. The tariff debate means a month longer in session, that's all."

Your correspondent wandered wearily over to the house wing of the capitol and saluted Robinson of Massachusetts for a news paragraph. This gentleman, who will probably be the next speaker if republicans have a majority in the 48th congress, said he thought congress would adjourn by the first of August. "So far as we in the house are concerned," said Robinson, "I don't think there is a single man who wants to stay here and bother with amendments to the internal revenue bill proposed by the senate. If that bill could be adopted just as we passed it after the appropriation bills are out of the way we would adjourn immediately, supposing the senate tacks to the bill the proposed deductions on steel rails and sugar, and corrects the treasury decisions against manufacturers of hoop, band and scroll iron, and the bill comes back to the house, a single point of order will throw it into committee of the whole and then we are confronted with the entire tariff question. Either we will be kept here for a long time debating the subject of tariff that has been referred to a commission, or committee of the whole will consider the whole subject and serve notice on the senate of intention of the house to adjourn then, by throwing over the internal revenue bill till next session. The members of the house want to adjourn as soon as possible and many of them are laboring with senators to abandon changes in the internal revenue bill they have proposed. During debate on sundry bills after regular business had been disposed of, house members came to a stand still on the section providing for survey of public lands. A clause in that section provides that no certificate issued for deposit of money for survey of lands under section 2400 of that statute shall be received in payment of lands except in the land office in which the lands surveyed for which deposit is made are subject to entry. The object of this was to break up fraud that has grown up on the matter of surveys of public lands by which the government has been defrauded of millions of dollars annually by speculators who have found how the work can be done. The plan has been for parties to make a deposit with the government for surveys of comparatively valueless lands, without any intention of bona fide settlement thereon. The certificates on deposit issued to them under act of March, 1871, they could assign by indorsement and these could be used in taking up lands in any part of the public domain. The extent to which this business was followed became serious, and Secretary Kirkwood and commissioner of the general land office, McFarland, urged upon congress the necessity of limiting it in some way. This is what the provision in the sundry civil bill means to do. Page of California made a point of order against the provision as new legislation, and Chairman Kasson, after the point had been discussed for a long time, declined to rule on it and referred it to the house, which refused to sustain the point of order. The order will come up for discussion in its turn in the morning.

A Star Route Matter.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—In a special dispatch last Thursday announcement was made that the grand jury was to be reconvened to consider additional evidence discovered tending to throw light upon alleged frauds committed in connection with the letting of a contract for star route service on the route from San Antonio to Corpus Christi, Texas. At that time announcement was made that Senator Kellogg, of Louisiana, was connected with the payment of certain postoffice drafts, aggregating in amount about $20,000. Indictments were found some time ago against Gen. Brady and J. B. Price, contractor on this route. The distance from San Antonio to Corpus Christi is 150 miles. The contract was let to Price for $2778 per year, service to be two trips per week on a schedule of 40 hours. Four trips were added on Dec. 1, 1878, two months after the beginning of the term of four years, and on Aug. 1, 1879, the running time was reduced to 29½ hours, and for this expedition Price was given $26,204, raising the pay from $2778 to $28,983, of which he paid about $15,000 to a sub-contractor. There is no reason to believe that either ex-Senator Dorsey or his brother John W. Dorsey was in any way connected with this route, although incorrect statements to that effect have been published. This route has no connection with the Salisbury service, which was almost exclusively in western states and territories. To-day the grand jury was reconvened by special order of Judge Wylie at request of counsel for government in star route cases. There were six absentees and the jury was adjourned until Wednesday next, the marshal being directed meantime to fill vacancies. The principal reason for adjournment, however, was the absence of Jno. A. Walsh, of New York, formerly a broker in this city, upon whom the government chiefly relies to sustain its case against Price, Brady and possibly Senator Kellogg. Price formerly resided in New Orleans, where he was a commission merchant and became acquainted with Mr. Kellogg. J. J. Ellis, who was a sub contractor on the route from San Antonio to Corpus Christi, it is said, testified before the grand jury that Price told him at the National hotel in this city that he had paid $3000 to secure the order of expedition, which gave him $30,304 a year additional pay. Walsh, who appeared before the grand jury once before, swore, it is said, that a prominent republican senator gave him for collection the postoffice drafts drawn by Price against his pay on the route from San Antonio to Corpus Christi, amounting to $15,000; also a note of Price for $5000, and that in due time the $5000 note was paid; that the proceeds of it were equally divided between General Brady and the senator, and that from time to time he collected at the postoffice department money or postoffice drafts given him by the senator, and handed over the money in equal parts to Brady and the senator. Word was received here to-day by the government that Mr. Walsh would be in the city prepared to testify. The risk attendant upon successful prosecution of a case that depends entirely upon evidence of one man is apparent. Walsh has a suit pending against several members of the star route ring for $31,000. His record as a business man is not of such a character as to give the government implicit confidence in his good faith, but the result of the hearing before the grand jury next Wednesday is awaited with great interest. Reports connecting the name of a democratic senator from the southwest with that of Senator Kellogg as implicated in the frauds on this route are believed to be without foundation, although Senator Maxey, of Texas, was one of the persons who solicited expedition and increase of service on the San Antonio and Corpus Christi route.

The route from Canyon City, Oregon, to Fort McDermitt was next considered. Bliss requested the crier to call Geo. E. Spencer. This was done, but there was no response. In answer to the court, Bliss said this witness (ex-senator from Alabama) had been summoned, and after putting in an appearance had suddenly left the city. After recess Bliss presented a number of petitions relating to the route under consideration, and after some testimony of the same character the court adjourned.

It can be authoritatively stated that but one U. S. senator is expected to be criminally connected with the star route frauds through newly discovered evidence.

Committee Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—In finance committee yesterday Senator Beck offered an amendment to the internal revenue reduction bill, but it was rejected, and he gave notice he would introduce it when the bill was reached by senate. The effect of the proposed amendment is to reduce duties ten per cent. on a large number of articles, including manufactures of cotton and wool, iron and steel, and their manufactures (iron and steel wire, rope and chains, even if coppered, galvanized or gilded, to pay the same duty as iron or steel), watches, jewelry and articles of personal adornment, paper and its manufactures, except unsized printing paper, manufactures of India rubber, gutta percha and straw, oil cloths, glass, glassware, leather and hides and their manufactures, etc. Williams also gave notice of an amendment to repeal the tax on tobacco after January 1, 1883. Morgan gave notice of a proposed amendment exempting farmers from the special license required of dealers. Vance gave notice of several amendments to the bill, the effect of which will be to admit free of duty for five years all kinds of machinery used exclusively in manufacture of cotton or woolen goods, repeal the duty on salt, reduce existing rate of duties fifty per cent. on flannel blankets, knit goods, balmorals, woolen and worsted yarns, hoop iron, stoves, butts, hinges, hollow ware and silken fabrics. Just before adjournment, Beck gave notice of two additional amendments. One provides that after July 1st, 1883, the duties on imported merchandise of various kinds shall not exceed 30 per cent. ad valorem; the other proposes to repeal the provisions in revised statutes which prohibit purchase by citizens of the United States of ships built in other countries. The amendments agreed to at the republican caucus were adopted by the finance committee by a strict party vote.

A Political Murder.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Postmaster Taft of Charleston, S. C., arrived to-day from South Carolina. He says the evidence is overwhelming showing the killing of Blair at Camden, last Tuesday, was a political assassination. As soon as Blair was killed, friends of Haile, the murderer, took possession of his body. A post mortem was held and Haile was brought before the judge and liberated on $500 bail. The laws require the prosecuting attorney to be notified and be present whenever there is application made for bail. Under such circumstances in this case he was not notified. Judge Kershaw, who admitted Haile to bail, is a relative of the latter.

Nominations.

Frank T. Dubois, U. S. marshal for Idaho; Jos. W. Robbins, of Illinois, U. S. surveyor-general district of Arizona; Alvey A. Adee of District of Columbia, third assistant secretary of state.

Joseph W. Robbins of Illinois was to-day nominated to be surveyor-general of Arizona. Robbins is Illinois correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean, a stalwart journal, and he tried to secure an appointment in Arizona during Garfield's administration.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Statistical returns of the department of agriculture for July, show cotton has improved since the 1st of June, the average conditions being three points better the 1st of July. The general average is 92, which is higher than in July 1873 and 1874, and lower than in any other year of the past ten. It was 93 in 1877 and 1870 and 95 last July. The drawbacks reported are those of the past year, mainly deficient stands, slow growth and general backwardness, but there is marked absence at present of unhealthy condition. The returns are nearly unanimous in indicating a good degree of vigor and rapidity of growth.

CHICAGO, July 11.—A Journal Washington special says: A good deal of interest is felt in to-morrow's developments before the grand jury. There is a little uncertainty whether Walsh, the expected witness, will be found.

An error has been discovered in the internal revenue bill. By the use of the word "monthly," instead of "annually," the tobacco tax on dealers is greatly reduced.

Nobody expects adjournment before August, as a flood of amendments to the internal revenue bill is being offered in the senate. The democrats say they will have the duty on salt removed before the session closes.

Mr. Bayne, congressional leader of the Pennsylvania Independents, says he hopes to-morrow's meeting of the republican committee in Philadelphia will result in the withdrawal of both tickets and the substitution of a new one.

Congressman Butterworth's tables, regarding appointments made by Presidents Garfield and Arthur, presented in the house recently, are said to be grossly inaccurate in at least some particulars.

House committee on judiciary directed representative Payson of Illinois to report adversely on Mormon war claims pending since 1859. The amount involved is $150,000.

It is the intention of the tariff commission to arrange for hearing testimony with a view to saving time, and persons desiring to be heard will be notified of the time and place. President Hayes may be addressed on the subject at Long Branch.

Hale, Logan and Davis, of West Virginia, subcommittee of senate committee on appropriations, having in charge the naval appropriation bill, completed their work this afternoon. Very little change was made in the house bill in the items of appropriations, but several material modifications were made in matters of legislation affecting the personnel of the navy with a view to avoiding harshness of those features in the house bill which in cutting down the number would for many years completely block promotion.

Steamship Gaelic which arrived this morning from Hongkong brought 896 Chinese passengers.

Bodie Mining Notes.

BODIE, July 11.—During the week Standard shipped $31,000 in bullion. The east crosscut on the 1200 level is in one hundred and twenty feet. The east crosscut on 1000 level is eight hundred and seventy-two feet. The south drift from the same is two hundred and eighty-seven feet, along the face in broken vein matter and quartz. Upper levels show no important change. Bodie crushed one hundred and five tons; assay value of ordinary pulp one hundred and seven dollars, and that of sacked ore one thousand and twenty-one dollars per ton. Bullion shipment, $10,845.

Work was resumed in Lent shaft on the 5th inst. and it is now down 905 feet. The south drift from east crosscut, on 800 level is twenty-five feet long, with two feet of quartz in the face assaying from $10 to $40. The west crosscut from north drift on 780 level is 151 in feet. Crossways from winze 17 aggregate 44 feet, where ore is very rich. In Noonday and North Noonday incline working preparations are being completed for extracting ore which will result in largely increasing bullion shipments, consequent upon superior quality of ore in this lower portion of the mines. Ore has started a drift north and south on the foot wall of the ledge on the 714 level. The face of the north drift is in stratified quartz showing auriferous sulphurets and ruby silver.

The Red Cloud east cross-cut on the 200-foot level is in 235 feet. Sinking the shaft will be resumed on the 13th inst.

Bodie tunnel, Goodshaw and Tioga continue operations without notable change.

Syndicate is drifting and uprising on the Tioga vein. The mill is running on Bodie dump.

Other Mining Notes.

The Patterson district, twenty miles north of Bodie, is full of mining men and prospectors, and new discoveries of free milling silver ore are reported almost daily.

The North California Comstock mine has been bonded for 90 days to a strong eastern company, who have commenced extensive prospecting operations.

The important mining case of J. B. Fort, J. H. Page et al vs. J. N. Summers et al, involving the title to four-fifths of the recently discovered and valuable Kentucky mine in the Patterson district, commenced on the 10th inst. in the superior court of Mono county at Bridgeport before Judge Wiggin.

Congressional Nomination.

PHŒNIX, Arizona, July 11.—The democratic territorial convention met to-day and nominated Granville H. Oury delegate to congress by acclamation.

Prohibition Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The state convention in the interest of prohibition and reform convened this morning. About 150 delegates from Good Templar lodges, organizations of the Home Protection association, Sons of Temperance, Loyal League, W. C. T. union and Band of Hope, and ministers of the gospel — Protestant and Catholic—were present. M. C. Winchester was elected temporary chairman, and Rev. George Morris temporary secretary. A committee on credentials was also appointed. Election of permanent officers resulted: President, John Woods; secretary, George Morriss; assistant secretary, Rev. F. H. Wales. Various committees were appointed and recess taken.

UTAH.

Utah Elections.

SALT LAKE, July 11.—The people are holding elections for school trustees and polygamists voting as usual. Some say the election will be illegal, as the Edmunds law prohibits polygamists voting. Mormon lawyers say as the commissioners have not arrived, the Edmunds law is not in force and elections must be carried on under the old law until a new one is put in operation. Complications will certainly arise through the long delay in appointing commissioners. It is understood a general election will be held next month under the old law, the commissioners not having arrived in time to make registration. If polygamists vote, gentiles will take steps to have the election decided void, in which event it will leave the counties without officials.

Nine hundred and twenty-three women converts from Great Britain and Scandinavia arrived to-day and are being temporarily provided for. The largest company for years will be followed by two others later in the summer. Thirty-four missionaries who have been abroad two years returned with them.

Port Townsend Notes.

PORT TOWNSEND, July 11.—The stockholders of the Puget Sound Telegraph Co. held their annual meeting yesterday, and elected Cyrus Walker, Wm. Renton, Thomas T. Minor, N. D. Hill and F. A. Bartlett trustees. The trustees this evening elected the following officers: President, Thomas T. Minor; secretary, N. D. Hill; treasurer, F. A. Bartlett. During the past year the line has been extended via Dungeness to Port Angeles, half way between here and Cape Flattery.

At the city election, held here yesterday, Dr. T. T. Minor was unanimously reelected mayor.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Victoria Notes.

VICTORIA, July 11.—The steamship Geo. W. Elder sailed at noon yesterday for San Francisco with the following passengers: Chrispin Taylor, Mrs. Newton, Joseph Griffith and wife, Miss J. Elmore, Mrs. J. Lewis, J. H. McLaughlin, Leon Leguinne, Dominie Green, W. Merton, Luke Pither, S. H. Bohannan and wife, C. F. Dorance, Mrs. F. Jackson, and 15 in the steerage.

Nominations for the local parliament took place Monday at New Westminster. The opposition candidate was returned by acclamation, the government not venturing to bring out a man. Political meetings are held nightly and great excitement exists.

The government telegraph office in this city was burglarized by two boys the other night, and about $60 stolen. One of the boys fled to the sound and the other is in custody.

Salmon are running in limited numbers. The yield will not be large.

Exports for the quarter, $600,000.

Olympia Notes.

OLYMPIA, July 11.—About one hundred and twenty-five delegates to the grand lodge of A. O. U. W. arrived to-day.

Judge Wingard arrived yesterday and Chief Justice Greene arrived to-day. Supreme court will be in session to-morrow.

LANE COUNTY HOP GROWERS.

[OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

EUGENE CITY, July 8th.

The hop growers of Lane county assembled and elected the following officers: R. F. Mason, president, and Ike Young secretary. After discussing the prospects of the coming crop and other matters pertaining to the growing, curing and baling of hops a motion fixing the prices for picking the coming crop was made and carried, the prices fixed being 37½ cents per box where poles are pulled, and 40 cents per box where pickers pull their own poles. The sentiment of the meeting was very strong in favor of exercising the greatest care in picking, curing and baling the coming crop.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE,

Valuable Medicine.

DR. W. H. PARMELEE, Toledo, O., says: "I have prescribed the 'acid' in a large variety of diseases, and have been amply satisfied that it is a valuable addition to our list of medicinal agents."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the proper remedy to take in the spring of the year to purify the blood, invigorate the system, excite the liver to action, and restore the body by tone and vigor of the whole physical mechanism, which often becomes impaired during the winter, by lack of open air exercise, and the want of sufficient care in the matter of diet.

BEFORE THE BOMBARDMENT.

Graphic Narrative of the Preparation for Combat, and Incidents of the Day.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—Herald's, London: A Standard correspondent telegraphed as follows from Alexandria on Monday morning: The question of peace or war is now out of the hands of the British admiral and is vested solely in Arabi Bey and his followers. An ultimatum was sent this morning early by Admiral Seymour, who demanded surrender of all forts at the mouth of the harbor, and should the demand not be complied with, fire would be opened up to-morrow morning early. It is possible that Arabi Bey, at the last moment, will give way, but this is not anticipated, as he has committed himself too far to draw back. It was by bearding the western powers that he obtained his prestige and influence with the Egyptians, and to surrender the forts to the demand of England alone without striking a blow would be fatal.

Early this morning the remaining British subjects embarked, and, save a few Italians and Greeks, the European portion of the population of Alexandria have deserted the town. Those who remain are simply shop-keepers who prefer any risk rather than abandon their property to the reign of mobs. They have barricaded their houses and will resist any attempt on the part of the mob to break in during the bombardment.

The Chiltern, the telegraph ship, has also moved out and has taken up a station out of gunshot. She has weighed the cable and is in connection with Malta. As government messages will have precedence over others, it is uncertain at what time telegrams can be sent off to-morrow with details of the bombardment. The Invincible is anchored opposite the Mex fort in the outer harbor and the Monarch close by. In the fort and on the adjoining works are seven heavy rifled guns frowning on the fleet and all is ready for action. The guns are already loaded and turned in the forts in readiness for instant work should the latter take the initiative. Among officers and men quite a self reliant air prevails, and all the movements are conducted quietly and without fuss. No onlooker would suppose that at any moment the ships might be engaged in a deadly conflict so much does all resemble ordinary work and peaceful maneuvers. On shore a veritable panic was excited by the alarming exit of the merchants and foreign war steamers from the harbor and by the movements of our own men of war. Great numbers of natives are leaving town.

The khedive declined the invitation of the English consul general to embark on the English ships, saying that he could not afford to give his enemies an opportunity of saying that he deserted his post at the approach of a foreign foe. The news that reaches us from the shore is to the effect that the military say that after defending the forts to the last they will retire to the interior, where preparations for further resistance are complete. They have organized an ambulance service and have stopped all railway traffic from Cairo.

On the Invincible everything is ready for action. The water-tight compartments are closed, the topmasts are struck, sand bags are piled on the upper battery deck to protect the men working the Gatling guns and the riflemen posted there. We shall probably engage the forts at close quarters. Our medium and small arms men will be able to do much to keep down the fire of the enemies' guns. They are doubtless taking our range at present, but they will be deceived if they think we shall fight from present moorings. We will to-morrow morning get under way and keep moving during the action, rendering it difficult for inexperienced gunners to keep up an effective fire. As I write at 2 o'clock the American squadron is steaming past. Several salutes are being exchanged and our bands are playing "Hail Columbia" and theirs "God Save the Queen." The departure leaves the British fleet alone face to face with the Egyptian batteries, except the German and Austrian steamers, who are still hesitating to obey the admiral's warning.

3 P. M.—News from shore is to the effect that the commotion among the populace is rapidly increasing. No plundering has yet begun. The troops continue to patrol the streets, and no Europeans are visible in the streets, although it is calculated that not less than 5000 Greeks, Levantines and Italians remain.

5 P. M.—No message of surrender has come off shore. The signal has been hoisted for the fleet to clear for action. Inside the harbor, beginning at Fort Pharos, will be the Temeraire, Alexandra, Serpent and Inflexible. On board the latter all is ready for action. Numerous wind sails for ventilation between decks during action form a strange sight as they lower, for from the sombre turrets we shall see the hottest fight. A large contingent will disembark from the flagship, if required, to complete the dismantling of forts. Mr. Tulloch, the military attache, will accompany the shore brigade. He has on frequent reconnoissances obtained complete information as to the forts. Gatling and Wederfeldt guns will cover their movements. Besides the ironclads are the Bittern, Decoy, Signet and Condor, gunboats, all outside of range of fire of the batteries. Besides these, again, is a great fleet of steamers lying to awaiting the result.

The Austrian and German war steamers appear to be at last getting ready to move outside. At 11 o'clock the Invincible, Monarch and Penelope moved out and anchored outside the harbor.

The scene was impressive in a high degree. Slowly all the foreign ships moved from their berths and steamed out of the harbor. The merchant steamers presented no regular order, but the war ships of the various nations steamed out in squadrons, saluting as they passed the admiral's flag, while the bands played national airs. Scarcely a breath of air was blowing and the various ensigns drooped against the masts. The bright eastern sky overhead, the deep blue sea, the white clothed crews clustering on the rigging, and the knowledge of the change that would soon take place rendered the stately procession of war ships extremely impressive. The merchant ships were crowded with refugees, those who had held on to the last in hopes that matters would not come to the extremity. By half-past 1 the American squadron of three ships, the Russian ships, one Austrian and one German ship had passed.

At 1 o'clock a steam launch towing a large boat full of Egyptian officials was seen approaching the flag ship. It contained Ragheb Pasha and the other members of the past and present ministry. They were received by the admiral and the Hon. Mr. Lambton, flag lieutenant, and a guard of marines, the band playing and a general salute being fired, as they came as a deputation from the rulers of Egypt. It at once appeared that they had not received the admiral's letter and had come off to inquire the reason for the hostile preparations. The interview was conducted with great courtesy on both sides, but the Egyptian officials looked blank indeed upon the admiral informing them that he had sent a demand that the forts commanding the harbor be immediately dismantled. The members of the deputation talked somewhat excitedly among themselves in the Turkish, discussing apparently what Arabi would say to the demand. They inquired who would be deputed to dismantle the forts. While this conversation was going on the admiral's letter, which had followed them from the khedive's yacht, Marhoussa, was brought on board and handed to them. They then returned on shore to consider the matter at a council of ministers and will reply before 5 o'clock this morning.

Appearances on shore indicate a determination to fight. Bodies of troops can be seen moving about. While the director of customs was coming on board the Tanjore he was stopped by a guard of soldiers, who took him and the cash chest which was being carried with him before Arabi Pasha. The latter demanded that the money should be handed to him. The director of customs refused to do this, whereupon Arabi took possession saying that it was time the director was sent on board under an escort. In several instances men had great difficulty in getting away. Two English engineers in the tug Champion were seized by an Arabic crew and were being carried off when the gunboat Bittern started in pursuit and rescued them. The last two Englishmen on board were the Cornish manager of the water works and the secretary of the port. The khedive has sent his family away to the country, but he remains at Alexandria himself.

A Times correspondent on board the Helicon telegraphs that the American, Austrian, Russian and Italian men-of-war have anchored two miles outside the breakwater. Admiral Seymour has deputed an officer to supervise all telegrams.

LONDON, July 11.—The Daily Telegraph has the following: ALEXANDRIA, July 10th. The admiral declines to allow newspaper correspondents to go aboard his war ships. I shall be able to take refuge on board an American ship.

2:26 P. M.—Men belonging to the Monarch have just fixed iron shields on tops for placing machine guns there. English refuge ships have left the harbor. The telegraph ship Chilton is also outside, but American vessels remain here for a time. Egyptians are still working on forts. They can just be seen from the deck of the American ship. According to reports received from shore people are fleeing in every direction and there is a great panic.

Progress of the Bombardment.

LONDON, July 11.—A correspondent on board the Invincible telegraphs as follows from Alexandria at 7:40 A. M.: The Alexandria, Sultan and Superb have opened fire upon the fortifications. The batteries at once replied, but their shots at first fell short of the ships. The rest of the fleet then joined in and the engagement became general. After a twenty minutes' cannonade two forts ceased firing. Fort Pharos appears to be much damaged. The ships, as far as can be perceived, have not suffered any.

Forts Badly Damaged.

LONDON, July 11.—A Standard's correspondent on the Invincible telegraphs the following:

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—9:10 A. M.—Attack on forts has now been kept up two hours. Smoke hangs over the town along the line of shore batteries and among the ships and it is difficult to see what damage has been done. It is certain, however, the enemy has suffered very heavily. Fort Marasel Kanat has been blown up by fire from other batteries. The forts are slackening their fire. The top of the tower of Fort Pharos has been carried away and many guns have been dismounted on that and other forts. The flag of Geneva red cross is flying over the hospital in the city and Dutch and green flags are hoisted over their respective consulates. At beginning of bombardment immense excitement was visible and crowds of people were seen winding their way toward the palace. The streets are now deserted, people having fled or taken refuge in cellars. There are no signs of a surrender so far.

A telegram from the eastern telegraph company on the steamer Chiltern, sent at 11:15 A. M., says bombardment still continues. Forts are gradually being silenced. The Ras-el-Tin forts are suffering severely from the heavy and disastrous fire of the ships Alexandria, Superb and Temeraire.

Shortly after noon all exposed guns in the forts were dismounted, and only those in a sheltered position were able to return the British fire. Fort Marsa El Kanat, which was blown up, was only completed a week ago Sunday last. The Mancrieff battery and Pharos fort have been silenced by guns of the Temeraire and Inflexible. It is reported that the khedive's yacht has been sunk in the harbor. Admiral Seymour commenced attack on Fort Gabarrie and harbor forts in the morning. The small effect of the 81-ton and other guns on the earthworks caused disappointment.

The Day's Fighting.

LONDON, July 11.—A special correspondent of the associated press with the British fleet telegraphs, under date of July 11—6 P. M.: A British naval officer has furnished me with the following account of the day's operations: The bombardment commenced at 7:15 this morning. The iron clads Superb, Sultan and Alexandria engaged and totally destroyed Fort Pharos and the lighthouse batteries, which are at the entrance to the new port and were intended to dominate approach to the new harbor. The flagship Invincible, Monarch and Penelope took up commanding positions inside the reefs, and, assisted from the outside by the Temeraire, attacked with destructive effect the strong position of Fort Mex, with lighthouse and three batteries. The Inflexible was stationed so as to command the lighthouse batteries, Fort Pharos and Fort Mex at the same time, and was thus in position to co-operate both with the division outside and that inside the reefs. The vessels Bittern, Condor, Beacon, Decoy and Bygnet attacked the Marabout batteries at the entrance of the harbor, and taking a close, destructive range silenced them, when they ran in and shelled Fort Mex on the southern side of the entrance to their anchorage on the outer harbor. The Invincible, under cover of her own guns and those of the Bittern, then landed a party of blue jackets and marines who entered Fort Mex and blew up the heavy guns. Bombardment practically ceased at noon, though some heavy guns at this hour are still shelling Fort Napoleon, a large work situated at the southern angle of the inner harbor and dominating the town. The fort does not reply. On the whole the Egyptians fought their batteries with more determination than had been expected. Several of the earthworks behind which guns were mounted were found to be mere heaps of sand.

The Forts Silenced.

LONDON, July 11.—In the house of lords at 6 o'clock this evening Lord Northbrook read a telegram which he had just received stating that all the forts had been silenced except one or two in the outside harbor.

It is confirmed that 40 British were wounded. The Egyptian loss at present is unknown but is likely to be severe. Part of Rasetin palace is in ruins and the light house is slightly damaged. Lord Northbrook also read an official telegram that unarmed ships had silenced the Marabout works at 11:40 A. M.

List of Casualties.

LONDON, July 11.—In commons this evening, Campbell Bannerman, financial secretary of the war office, read the following telegram: Alexandria, July 11, 7:30 P. M.—Total number killed, 5; wounded, 27; distributed as follows: Killed on Alexandria, 1; Superb, 1; Sultan 2; Inflexible 1. Wounded on Alexandria, 3; Superb, 1; Sultan, 7; Invincible, 6; Inflexible, 2; Penelope, 8. Twelve officers and men landed from the Inflexible under cover of a fire from the Condor and Bittern and destroyed with dynamite the heavy guns of Fort Mex.

The Day's Casualties.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11, 6:30 P. M.—Action is finished for the day. Casualties on English side, 40 wounded, none killed.

Notes of the Bombardment.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—The fort and magazine which were blown up were located close to the vice regal palace, outside the harbor.

Magazine Blown up.

LONDON, July 11—1 P. M.—A dispatch received from Alexandria says that the magazine at Fort Ada has been blown up.

Leaving the City.

LONDON, July 11.—A Standard dispatch from Alexandria says: Save a somewhat numerous colony of Italians and Greeks, all Europeans have left the city. Those who remain have barricaded houses. Military say they will defend the forts to the last and then retire into the interior, where preparations for resistance are complete.

Turkish Instructions.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11, 7 P. M.—The porte has telegraphed Musurus Pasha, Turkish ambassador at London, the following: The porte has learned that Admiral Seymour has opened fire. It is superfluous to dilate upon the extreme gravity of this fact. In view of the urgency of this matter the porte confined itself to requesting you without a moment's loss of time to make pressing representations to Lord Granville to issue orders to cease firing immediately in order to avert still greater misfortunes.

A General Conflict Feared.

VIENNA, July 11.—It is feared in government circles that events at Alexandria may anticipate ultimate intervention by the sultan and provoke a conflict. The first shot fired will make it necessary to consider the question of further maintenance of European concert.

America's Influence Asked for.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11.—Vakit, a Turkish newspaper, states that representatives of the powers have requested Gen. Wallace to use his efforts as minister of a neutral power to negotiate for the entrance of the porte into a conference, but that the Washington cabinet has ordered Gen. Wallace not to discuss a question of purely European diplomacy.

Egyptian War Notes.

LONDON, July 11.—The turret ships Dreadnaught, Neptune and Devastation have been ordered ready for service within a fortnight.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 10.—The conference will probably not sit just yet. Ambassadors generally consider action in regard to Alexandria as perfectly legitimate.

BRINDISI, July 11.—The Salamis with Major Gen. Allison and staff on board sailed to-day for Cyprus.

MADRID, July 11.—Three Spanish iron clad frigates are preparing for sea and will probably sail east shortly.

LONDON, July 11.—A private telegram from Port Said states that the French consul there ordered the embarkation of French subjects, and the occupation of Port Said was expected to take place to-day.

ALEXANDRIA, July 11.—In the fleet the Invincible had four men wounded, and the Inflexible was hit five times.

The fire fleet commands the railway to Cairo. Up to noon four forts in all were blown up, but no casualties to the fleet discernible.

Suez Canal Blockaded.

LONDON, July 11.—A dispatch to Lloyds from Port Said states that the British consul there, by order of Admiral Seymour, has stopped ships from entering Suez canal.

Admiral Seymour telegraphed as follows: Ships opened fire at 7 o'clock this morning. Return fire from forts was weak and ineffective. Explosion in Fort Marsa El Kanat had occurred by 8 o'clock. Ships engaged are the Inflexible, Temeraire, Penelope, Superb, Sultan, Invincible, Alexandra and Monarch.

A New Complication.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11.—Lord Dufferin, British ambassador, notified the porte Monday of Admiral Seymour's intention to bombard Alexandrian forts if Arabi Pasha remained obdurate. The porte the same evening telegraphed Musurus Pasha, ambassador at London, that such act would constitute a grave infraction of the sovereign rights of the sultan, and it is expected the British government will order Admiral Seymour to abstain.

A Cause for More Trouble.

LONDON, July 11.—The Paris agent of the Suez canal telegraphs that De Lesseps has written the naval commanders protesting against the action of the British consul at Port Said in preventing vessels entering the canal as a violation of its neutrality, and declaring the company will hold the British government responsible. The whole staff of the canal remain at their post.

Parliamentary Proceedings.

LONDON, July 11.—In lords this afternoon Granville said the bombardment at Alexandria does not constitute a declaration of war against allied powers, as government is opposed to alliance with the military despotism of the new de facto ruler of Egypt.

Repression bill to-day passed commons and its third reading in lords without division.

Said Pasha Reappointed Prime Minister.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 11.—Said Pasha, formerly prime minister, has been reappointed to that office in succession to Abdurahman Pasha.

More Troops for the War.

LONDON, July 11.—The second batalion of the Royal Irish regiment has been ordered to proceed to Egypt within 24 hours.

De Lesseps Goes to Egypt.

PARIS, July 11.—De Lesseps leaves for Egypt to-morrow.

England Justified.

A dispatch from Vienna says it is admitted in government circles that England is perfectly justified in her vigorous action against Arabi Pasha's acts of provocation, and so long as England confines this line of conduct she will meet with no opposition from the powers.

Arabi Pasha's Strategy.

A dispatch from Alexandria reports the Egyptian ministers were not aware yesterday of Admiral Seymour's ultimatum, because it was intercepted by Arabi Pasha.

PARTIES AND PRINCIPLES.

The Boston Advertiser, an old and thoroughly trustworthy republican paper, makes the Oregon election the text of a commentary on the political situation existing at the present time, saying that the intelligence of the result was received in the east "with a languid interest," and that "neither the distance of Oregon, nor her relatively small importance in a political sense, nor the fact that republicans are so accustomed to victories that they do not become excited over a little one, can wholly explain it." For the election really had a good deal of importance, arising from the fact that it fixed the political status of the U. S. senate for two years after March next, and also gave the republicans the first member yet elected to the next house of representatives. The journal above named finds the reason of the faintness of the echo which the discharge of "the first gun of the campaign" awakened, in the decline of partisan spirit and in the change which is taking place in the relations of parties to the questions of real importance which the country must deal with.

It proceeds then to say that one need not be excessively cynical to discover that party names mean less now than they did a few years ago. There must always be two parties in the country,—a liberal, progressive and a conservative party. There are to-day as many and as earnest progressive men as ever, who find as much to be done for the good of the country as they and their predecessors found at a former time. Unfortunately, they are becoming aware that neither of the two parties is sincerely progressive. The one is so nominally and by profession, the other is avowedly conservative. The republican party, to which most of the honest progressives of the day have belonged, uses fair words, but disappoints in its acts. The machinery has been entrusted to the hands of politicians whose motto is "men, not principles." The republican party will not openly disavow principles in order to carry elections, as the democratic party does, but it allows the principles to be forgotten. In some states it exists merely for the purpose of carrying elections, in others to promote the fortunes of some "boss," in others to hold the federal patronage, and as represented in congress it has not only redeemed no pledge of an attempt to reform the system of appointments to office, but it will not even consider the subject, and the individual members offend grossly against all the principles which party platforms have laid down for their guidance. If proof were required that political principles occupy at present but a subordinate place in the thoughts and plans of the leading politicians on both sides, it would be found in the fact that the only battle between the two parties at the present session has been over the question who should represent certain southern districts.

The significance of these facts may be overrated very easily. Mr. Cameron's rule in Pennsylvania, the alliance with the readjusters in Virginia, the timidity of republicans on the silver question, the indifference to civil service reform, and other circumstances of these classes, do not mean that the republican party has outlived its usefulness—much less do they teach that it is wise political action to transfer allegiance to a party which does not even profess a desire for progressive measures They do show that the republican party needs to be awakened out of a lethargic sleep, and that it needs new leaders The men who are progressive must come to the front, and those who are possessed of the idea that parties exist only to carry elections and to put their own men into office, and not to render effective the principles which form the basis of the party, must be forced to retire If that is not possible there is still an alternative, but it is scarcely worth while now to consider it. Some of the civil service reformers have taken a step which many more of them may think it advisable to imitate. In Pennsylvania a large section of the party is in full revolt. It is barely possible that a few events like these may show to the party the danger it is in of being abandoned by the men whose earnestness gives it most of its vitality as a moral force Should it be otherwise nobody need despair of the future of the republic. There will be a liberal party, and it will win victories and carry its measures But that party will not be the republican party of the past, unless the men whom it places in positions of power act as well as advocate reforms.

ALEXANDRIA.

Alexandria (called Skanderieh by the Turks and Arabs) was founded by Alexander the Great in the autumn of the year 332 B C It was situated originally on the low tract of land which separates Lake Mareotis from the Mediterranean sea, about 14 miles west of the Canopic mouth of the Nile. Before the city, in the Mediterranean, lay the island of Pharos, upon the northeast point of which stood the famous lighthouse, Pharos, and which was connected with the mainland by a mole, called, from its length, the heptastadium, or seven furlong mole, thus forming the two harbors. The plan of Alexandria was designed by the architect Dinocrates, and its original extent is said to have been about four miles in length, with a circumference of 15 miles It was intersected by two straight main streets 100 feet wide, crossing each other at right angles in the middle of the city Colonades adorned the whole length of these streets, which were in general very regularly built The most magnificent quarter of the city was that called the Bruchelum, which was situated on the east harbor and contained the palaces of the Ptolemies, with the museum and the old library, the soma, or mausoleum of Alexander the Great and of the Ptolemies, the posidonium, or temple of Neptune, and the great theatre. Further west was the emporium or exchange. The Serapeion, or temple of Serapis, stood in the west division of the city, which formed the Egyptian quarter, and was called Rhacotis a small town of that name having occupied the site before the foundation of Alexandria. To the west of the city lay the great Necropolis, and to the east the race course, beyond which was the suburb of Nicopolis From the time of its foundation Alexandria was the Greek capital of Egypt. Its population in the time of its prosperity is said by Diodorus to have amounted to about 300,000 free citizens, and if we take into account the slaves and strangers that number must have been more than doubled This population consisted mostly of Greeks, Jews and Egyptians together with settlers from all nations of the known world After the death of Alexander the Great, Alexandria became the residence of the Ptolemies. They made it, next to Rome and Antioch, the most magnificent city of antiquity as well as the chief seat of Grecian learning and literature which spread hence over the greater part of the ancient world

Alexandria had reached its greatest splendor when it came into the possessions of the Romans about 30 B C From this moment its prosperity began to decline, in consequence of the removal of the works of art to Rome the massacres of Caracalla, the laying waste of the Bruchieum by Aurelian, the siege and pillage of the city by Diocletian and lastly the rising prosperity of the rival city of Constantinople The strife between Christianity and heathenism gave rise to bloody contests in Alexandria The Serapeion the last seat of heathen theology and learning was stormed by the Christians in 389 A D, and converted into a Christian church. This put an end to heathenism, and Alexandria became henceforward a chief seat of Christian theology and continued to be so until it was taken by the Arabs under Amru, A. D. 638. Its conquest by the Turks in A D 868, completed the destruction of the city

The present city is not situated exactly on the site of the old one, but is chiefly built on the mole called the Heptastadium, which has been increased by alluvial deposits till it has become a broad neck of land between the two harbors of which the east is called the new port and the west the old port Alexandria is connected with Cairo by rail, continued to Suez, and by the canal of Mahmoudie Its population in 1878 was 212,054.

SHEEP AND WOOL.

According to a census bulletin the wool clip of the United States for the year 1880 (the year to which all the returns furnished by the bulletins refer) was—in round numbers—155,000,000 pounds from 35,000,000 sheep, against 100,000,000 pounds from 28,000 000 sheep in 1870. This shows that while the number of sheep has increased only 25 per cent., the wool product has increased 55 per cent The best showing is made by Ohio which produces 25,000,000 pounds of wool from 3 000 000 sheep, an average of 8½ pounds to the fleece. California has indeed 1,000 000 more sheep than Ohio, but they give but 4½ pounds to the fleece, or 17,000,000 pounds in all Michigan is third on the list, with 12,000,000 pounds, while New York produces 9,000,000. Pennsylvania 8,000,000 and Missouri and Wisconsin 7,000,000 each The most rapid increase was made in Texas, where in 1870 there were but 700,000 sheep, producing 1 125 000 pounds of wool, while in 1880 the figures had risen to 2,000,000 sheep, producing nearly 7,000,000 pounds. There has been a very marked increase in production in Michigan, Missouri, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin while in New York there is noted a decrease of 500-000 sheep and 1 500,000 pounds of wool Of the New England states, New Hampshire and Vermont produce the finest grades of wool, the wool growers there devoting their attention principally to the fine merino wools The Michigan farmers also produce a very large proportion of the finer grades. On the whole the showing made by the census in regard to this staple is very satisfactory and points unmistakably to our ability in the near future to supply our own wants in this respect, both as regards quantity and quality.

A MATTER OF TASTE.

In the naming of towns and settlements we notice a tendency to go abroad for high-sounding titles, or poor efforts of personal gratitude to perpetuate the names of eastern local towns Thus our city is called Portland and not Multnomah. Musical Indian names, which mean something, are available for almost all localities and are always to be preferred to sounding or silly titles which are too often adopted Think of the sacrilege which made an effort to discard the original "Ilwaco," with its pretty legend, for "Unity." Nearly all Indian names have a significance which is as apt and beautiful as their sound is musical Some of these names are so agreeable to the ear that they have been chosen by foreign steamship companies for their ships. The fastest steamship now afloat does not honor one of the oldest states in the union in its title, but Alaska a possession which yet lacks an organized local government and whose name was derived from the Indians. Another well known British steamship is named the Arizona after one of the newest of our territories Innumerable instances might be given to show that Indian names are among the most appropriate and sweet ever employed We do not mean to champion Shookum Chuck " Wakiakum," "Skomockawal, or some half-dozen other jaw breaking titles which have been adopted in enthusiastic efforts to be original But this is not necessary Pretty and appropriate names abound which may easily be spelled and pronounced It is an indication of mental weakness as well as of bad taste to go abroad for titles

MR. EVARTS ON EDUCATED CITIZENSHIP

Ex-Secretary Evarts spoke some words at the annual meeting of the Yale alumni which have interest in connection with the utterances of President Eliot, of Harvard college and Mr George William Curtis concerning educated men and politics "We have now reached a stage in the affairs of the country he said "when we are able to take up a long neglected subject—the subject of good government" Intelligent people make the great constituency, and Mr. Evarts declares that the college graduate "cannot shut himself up and complain of the ignorance, caprice and frivolity of his fellow citizens He is responsible armed and equipped as the soldier of civil life, that he be a combatant all through, either in the ditch or at the head " Mr. Evarts does not make excuses for the college-bred men who refuse to participate in politics as did President Eliot On the contrary, he rebukes them for their neglect of duty and tells them they cannot escape responsibility I must insist that this leaven of education must be the great factor to leaven the whole lump of American society," is his doctrine, and in accordance with it he says of our government If it fails it will fail because of the failure of the people in their duty to that government " Undoubtedly Mr. Evarts is right, and he has done a good work in impressing an important truth upon the country The best and most able men of the country ought to manage its affairs

It begins to look a little as though the Rev Mr Hicks is likely to be as great a nuisance to the country as the assassin to whom he ministered It is reported that during his attendance upon Guiteau he made copious notes of the sayings and doings of that miserable man with the intention of publishing a life of him The senseless gush to which Mr Hicks has given vent in connection with Guiteau, shows him to be a weak-minded man but if he persists in his purpose to write a life of the assassin, or in any way to trade upon his connection with the man as his spiritual adviser he will disgrace the profession which he misrepresents, and will receive as he will merit the contempt of all decent people

The number of farms in the United States, reported at each census for the past four decades is as follows

In 1850	1 449 073
In 1860	2 044 077
In 1870	2 659 985
In 1880	4 008 907

This table shows an increase of fifty one per cent. during the past decade If the census statistics may be relied upon and they have been gathered with unusual care, there is one farm, comprising three or more acres, tilled to every three persons of a voting age in the United States.

Of 15 302 862 school age children in the United States there is a school attendance of only 9 729,189 leaving more than one-third of the children and future rulers of our republic growing up in illiteracy while of the 7 500,000 school children in imperial Germany, but 300 000, or only one-twenty fifth of the whole number, are non attendants and that portion will hardly include more than those who are necessarily absentees from physical disabilities The comparison is not consoling to our patriotism or boasted pre-eminence

A census return shows that in the year 1880 the number of persons employed in all the wool manufacturing establishments of the country including men women and children was 161 007 Yet on pretense of favoring this handful of people which does not exceed the number employed in hoeing corn in ten counties of Iowa or Kansas all the woolen goods used in the United States including clothing, blankets and carpets are taxed from 50 to 90 per cent The country will think this matter over one of these days

One of the freaks of the storm in Indiana would have been amusing if it had not been so fraught with deadly peril to those who witnessed it. A waterspout is said to have chased a railroad train, which made the best time it could to get out of its reach If it had caught up with the cars no one would have been left to describe the phenomenon, but its force was spent on the hurtling trees and rocks before it succeeded in overtaking the fleeing engine

The Boston Herald reviewing the history of the prohibitory law in Maine and Massachusetts, thinks that "unless they have a new kind of human nature out in Iowa the attempt to prohibit intoxicating liquors, including beer and ale, will fail "

And now the English and French are at disagreement upon questions growing out of the situation in Egypt This deepens the confusion of a political plot already sufficiently intricate A general war may be necessary to straighten it out.

The Chicago Times describes the republican party as "an organized appetite of office holding " and the democratic party as an organized appetite of office-seeking ' These definitions beat all the platforms for truth and clearness

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 12, 1882.

CITY.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE OF AN INSANE WOMAN.—Yesterday forenoon one of the female patients of the insane asylum in East Portland, whose malady is not considered of the serious type, was allowed to come over to the city to do some shopping in charge of Miss Boyer, one of the attendants. No one, unacquainted with the two women, who saw them, would have supposed one of them to have been insane and in charge of the other. Their shopping was finished and they started to return to East Portland on the Stark street ferry boat. They were in the ladies' cabin, and when about half way across the attendant dropped her purse from her hand. She stooped to pick it up, and before she regained an erect position the insane woman darted through the door and across the chain to the end of the boat. Casting a wild, startled look around, she plunged into the river. Her clothes buoyed her up for a moment, and W. E. Moore, who was on the ferry, sprang into the water to her assistance. Both were then drawn out in safety by the people on board the boat. There can be no censure to the authorities in charge of the asylum, for the woman has been with them almost constantly for over eight years and has never before exhibited signs of wishing to commit suicide. She has frequently been permitted to cross to Portland to do shopping, always in charge of a lady attendant. This attempt was evidently unpremeditated, and the shock for the time completely prostrated her. Last evening, however, she had recovered and was in her usual health. Her name is withheld from family considerations, her husband being a prominent business man in one of the inland cities of the state. The act of Mr. Moore is worthy of all praise, and the authorities wish to publicly thank him for his bravery in going to the rescue of the unfortunate woman.

WILL THE CITY TAKE ITS OWN MEDICINE?—The bunches of Canada thistles which are growing in the city plaza opposite the court house still remain unmolested. So far as known these are the only thistles of this variety growing in the state of Oregon. There are enough of them now in blossom if allowed to ripen to seed the entire state to such an extent, carried as they will be by the winds in every direction, that an immense amount of time and labor will be required to exterminate them. Eastern farmers are well aware of the indestructible nature of the Canada thistle when once its roots have become scattered through meadows and pastures, and millions of dollars would not compensate them for the loss sustained each year through the growth of this pest. Oregon is free from it as yet, and it depends upon the authorities of Portland, where this thistle has first made its appearance, whether it will remain so. The city, through its official organ by the chief of police, publishes a notice to all owners of property within the limits that thistles growing within their fences or along the roadside in front of them must be destroyed on penalty of a fine. Still, upon one of the city's most prominent plazas the worst variety of the pest is vegetating luxuriantly, and continues undisturbed for several days after the attention of the authorities have been called to it. Have we a city government and will it live up to its own ordinances? The authorities would not more justly if, instead of fining people for not cutting down ordinary thistles, they would see that the Canada thistles growing on their own grounds were destroyed and not left to seed the lands of other people all over the state.

THE GREAT DEPOT.—Reports, probably started by interested real estate dealers, were extensively circulated yesterday that orders had been received from New York not to proceed further with preparations for the depot in Couch's lake. One crowd busied themselves with circulating the statement that the depot would go to the South Portland grounds, above the water works, while another coterie asserted with the utmost positiveness that the company would build a $200,000 edifice on the new grounds below Albina. The facts are that no such order was received, that the company secured yesterday by arbitration the only piece of ground they needed to complete the site for the great enterprise, and that Mr. Villard is very anxious that the work of filling should begin immediately. It is well known that no earth is to be had in the neighborhood of the lake for making the fill and material must be brought from considerable distance. So soon as preparations can be made, the work of filling will begin.

PRACTICAL JOKERS.—Night before last a telephone call came to the police station and was answered by Chief Lappeus. The party at the other end of the wire told the chief that he had reliable information that a murder was to be committed that very night in room 7 of the Centennial block. The room was occupied by a man and woman, and the latter had procured poison which she was going to administer to the man. The chief went to the Centennial block and learned that room 7 was occupied by a man and woman who seemed to live peaceably together and had been there some time. Everything was quiet within, and the chief, believing that a practical joke had been attempted upon him, did nothing farther in the way of investigating the matter. The man who was to have been poisoned appeared upon the streets yesterday in usual good health and entirely unaware of the evident joke which was attempted upon him.

CIVIL ENGINEER VS. CONTRACTOR.—The case of B. Fallons vs F. D. Forbes, tried yesterday in the circuit court, although involving the small sum of $201 75, was quite an interesting one to civil engineers. The plaintiff, or civil engineer, claimed to have been employed by the defendant in making estimates, upon which defendant founded his bid for building a dry dock at Victoria, B. C. The defendant, admitting the services, claimed that plaintiff agreed to do the work without pay, unless defendant obtained the contract, in which event plaintiff was to be employed on the work. The plaintiff's knowledge and ability as a civil engineer was also attacked. The trial occupied the entire day; the jury, after being out some time, returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $60.

CHANCE FOR RECOVERY.—Dr. R. G. Rex has returned from Astoria whither he was summoned as consulting surgeon in the case of John Scott, who was shot and almost fatally wounded some time ago. It will be remembered that Scott was shot from behind, the bullet entering his shoulder blade and passing upward and forward, and afterwards emerging in front. The wound at first was regarded as mortal, the bone having been broken into small pieces, but from what Dr. Rex says, there is a great chance of his entire recovery. He left the wounded man in a much easier condition.

GOOD WHEAT PROSPECTS.—C. M. Reid, a large stock owner of Creswell, Lane county, has arrived in the city with a herd of fine cattle, which he brings for the Portland market. Mr. Reid says that recent rains have benefited the wheat crops wonderfully in Lane county, and that there will be an unusually good yield this year. The farmers in that region are already preparing for harvest, and all speak encouragingly of the coming grain crop. In addition to being a good farmer, Mr. Reid is one of the largest stock raisers in the valley, and is well posted on agricultural topics.

CATCHING HIM AGAIN.—Capt. Landerman, of the German ship Fritz, who has already paid a fine for bringing too many Chinese passengers on board his vessel, was arrested yesterday by Deputy U. S. Marshal Watson on the charge of violating the law relating to berths. Captain Landperman brought 719 Chinamen to this port, and the penalty for violating that provision of the statute relating to the size of the berth is $5 in each case. Landperman if convicted will have to pay $3595.

BASE BALL EXCURSION TO OREGON CITY.—The Stars play the second match game with the Clippers of Oregon City next Sunday, at the home of the latter club, and will give an excursion, for which they have chartered the steamer A. A. McCully. The Bufflesticks and their friends, of Vancouver, have been invited, and the steamer will start from that place at 8 A. M., leaving Portland at 10 A. M. The game will be called promptly at 12:30 P. M.

WAITING FOR REQUISITION PAPERS.—Heifer, the Chico murderer, was not taken to California by last night's steamer. The requisition papers from the governor of that state did not arrive until last night, and they have yet to be forwarded to Gov. Thayer, at Salem. Marshal Rundel of Chico, remains here in charge of the prisoner, who is still confined in the city jail. They will go down by the next steamer.

SENSIBLE PATENTEE.—The latest bulletin from Washington announces that a patent has been granted to John H. Hoffer, of Jacksonville, on an apparatus for removing sand bars in rivers. Mr. Hoffer is the only one among the many Oregonians who have invented devices for removing deposits from the bottom of rivers who did not burden the board of trade with examination of models.

OBSERVATIONS AT ST. HELENS BAR.—Mr. R. A. Habersham, who is in the service of the U. S. engineer corps, left on the tug Robert T. Lincoln for St. Helen's yesterday morning. While in the neighborhood of that place Mr. Habersham will make some observations of the current, and will also sound the river to see which is the best point to begin scraping the bar.

THE TURK LARCENY CASE.—Jim Turk waived examination yesterday before Justice Greene on the charge of stealing the clothes of William Seymour on board ship, and gave bail for his appearance before the grand jury. Seymour will remain and prosecute Turk and the latter will not escape justice for the lack of a prosecuting witness this time.

SEALED LETTERS NO ONE'S BUSINESS.—The case against G. W. Loftis, charged with depositing obscene matter in the United States mail, was heard yesterday in the U. S. district court, and the demurrer to the indictment sustained and the defendant discharged on the ground that the obscene matter deposited was a sealed letter.

FINGER MUTILATED.—Wm. Fangburn, while working at the windlass of the Fourth street bridge in East Portland, got one of his fingers caught in a cog-wheel, tearing the flesh from the bone in a shocking manner, and making a very painful wound. Dr. Coley dressed the injured member.

NEARING ELK CREEK.—John Hallett, superintendent of construction on this end of the Northern Pacific, telegraphed yesterday that he would have the track to Elk Creek, 34 miles east of Land Point, by Saturday night. Six thousand men are now at work.

TRANSFERRED.—The sale of stamps, wrappers and envelopes at the postoffice has been transferred to the money order department, and will hereafter be in charge of Mr. Gus. Marquam. This department will be kept open till 6 P. M.

RAISING.—Another story is to be added to the building on Front street now occupied by Corbett, Failing & Co. The roof over the store of Neustadter Bros. is being raised to admit of adding another story.

Y. M. C. A. HALL.—Gospel meeting this evening, beginning on the street at 7:45. All are cordially invited, particularly young men and strangers.

Sales ladies wanted to sell ready made suits and dolmans at Mrs. Pilger's.

NEW PAPER WAREHOUSE.—Call at 91 Second st., bet. Stark and Oak, for all kinds of paper at extraordinary low rates. Closing out my line of legal cap, bill cap and letter and note papers at cost to make room.

A SIMPLE STORY OF LOVE.

Brief Synopsis of the Greatest Theatrical Success of the present age—Its Presentation at New Market Theater Next Week.

The drama of "Hazel Kirke" is known by name to every lover of theatrical performances throughout the United States. By those who have witnessed it, the simple story it presents is loved, for it awakens responsive emotions in every heart. It is not a great drama, for it is purely a domestic one. Its great success is due to the artistic presentation of the simple, tender, home scenes scattered throughout the story, and the beautiful touches of pathos which adorn it.

Hazel Kirke is a miller's daughter, educated above her station by 'Squire Rodney, a rich gentleman of the neighborhood, who hoped to make her his wife, having obtained the consent of her father, Dunstan Kirke. A young English nobleman, Arthur Carringford, is thrown from his horse into the mill-stream and rescued by the miller. Hazel nurses him back to life and falls in love with him. Rodney is the first to discover the girl's secret, and nobly gives up his claim to her affections. Before he can meet the father the latter has also discovered his daughter's love by seeing her in the arms of Carringford. The stern old father's ideas of right leads him, without explanation, to disown Hazel and he drives her from his door with his curse.

Carringford's mother is an invalid, who wishes him to marry with one Lady Maud, the scion of a noble house, whom her father had secretly wronged, and in this way make reparation. Fearing that the shock might kill his mother, Carringford resolves to marry Hazel in secret, and accompanied by his Irish servant, goes to the Scottish border to have the ceremony performed. The stupid servant, thinking his master only wished a mistress, guides them, as he supposes, to an inn on the English side. Happy in their wedded love, the husband learns of the deception practiced by his servant through an old friend, Pittacus Green, who brings the rumors of the outside world. Carringford at once hastens to find a curate to perform a legal ceremony. During his absence his mother visits Hazel, makes known the disgrace which will come upon her family if her son does not marry Lady Maud, tells Hazel that her marriage was a fictitious one and begs her to leave Carringford that he may be free to marry as his mother wishes. Hazel believes the man she loved had deceived her and leaves his house. After many days she wanders back to the old mill. Her father has become blind, misfortunes have come upon him and the mill is to be taken from him. His iron will is not yet broken. 'Squire Rodney meets Hazel, and in the same room with the blind old man pleads for her forgiveness. The stern old miller refuses, and Rodney leaves Hazel, almost heart broken, promising to return in the morning. Hazel goes forth and in the agony of despair throws herself into the dark waters of the pond. Then she is terrified and shrieks for help. The blind miller recognizes the voice but is powerless. He falls in a swoon. Carringford, who has been searching for Hazel, arrives opportunely and rescues her from drowning. Dunstan Kirke returns to consciousness with his mind wandering and his stern will broken, the voice of his daughter still ringing in his ears crying for help. His will is broken, and when he finds his daughter is alive he clasps her to his bosom. During this rejoicing a messenger arrives with the announcement that the inn where the ceremony was performed was on the Scottish side of the border, and all ends happily.

This play, represented by sterling actors, as will be seen by reference to the cast published elsewhere, strengthens the faith in human truth of those who listen to it. It has been presented by this company over 1500 times with continuous success. They open at New Market next Tuesday evening. The box office is now open, and those who wish seats will do well to reserve them early.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

Isaac Spears died of paralysis at Union on the 1st inst., aged 65 years.

The largest assemblage ever gathered in eastern Oregon met at Union on the 4th.

Flour has gone up to $3 50 per barrel in La Grande. Wheat sells at 60 cents per bushel and is scarce.

Four horses, attached to a wagon, were struck by lightning near La Grande on the 4th and instantly killed. The driver was uninjured.

The 2d and 3d of July were the hottest days of the season thus far at LaGrande. The mercury stood at 99 degrees in the shade for some hours during both of the days named.

Union county celebrated quite extensively on the 4th. The day was patriotically observed at North Powder, Union, Cove, Ladd Canyon, Summerville, Pine Grove and Alder.

The races over Remillard's course, near Union, this fall, will begin October 9th and continue six days. Messrs. Remillard & McComas, the managers, offer about $2000 in purses. Besides this there are premiums to the amount of $700 to be given on horses. It is expected that the show of fine horses will constitute a very interesting part of the meeting.

Washington Territory.

The weather at Yakima has been very hot the past week. The thermometer stood 98 degrees in the shade there last Wednesday.

Last Monday Lorenzo Teal cut and threshed 1800 pounds of barley, brought it into town, had it chopped in the mill, and before the sun went down over half of it had been fed out.—Walla Walla Watchman.

Prof. R. H. Stretch, of San Francisco, a geologist, and Prof. H. A. Hagen, of Harvard, an entomologist, are surveying the Yakima country relative to its geology and entomology, under the auspices of the transcontinental company.

The Washington Steamboat and Transportation Company, with a capital stock of $100,000, was incorporated at Utsalady recently. The company is composed of a number of solid men of Port Gamble and Utsalady, whose object it is to own and operate a line of steamers on Puget sound and the rivers emptying into it.

Idaho.

Brick, which were held at $30 per thousand last year in Hailey, can now be had for $10.

A man named Wm. Quigley is under bonds of $2000 at Hailey to appear before the grand jury to answer to the charge of assault with intent to kill. It seems that he disputed the passage of certain persons through premises claimed by him, and enforced his order by vigorous blows with an ax. The injuries of the parties attacked are severe but not dangerous.

Wood River Times: J. P. Ennis has located and had recorded the island in Wood River opposite Hailey, the slough between it and the main land, and a claim by virtue of which he is entitled to divert and use 5000 inches of water from the river. Mr. Ennis also recorded a claim to put in a boom across the main Wood river between Hailey and Galena. The island is a triangular piece of ground, two sides of which are about 150 yards long, the other being 400 yards long.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Temporary Light-Vessel of Entrance to San Francisco Bay.

Notice is hereby given that, on or about July 1, 1882, a light-ship will be moored near the wreck of the steamer Escambia, off the coast of California, near the entrance to San Francisco bay, in six fathoms of water. The vessel is schooner-rigged, with the word "wreck" on each side in large white letters. A fixed white light will be shown from each masthead.

The approximate position, as taken from the charts of the coast and geodetic survey, is as follows:

Latitude, 37 degs. 44 min. (12 sec.)

Longitude, 122 degs. 35 min. (16 sec.)

Point Bonita lighthouse bearing N. by E., ½ E., distant 5¾ nautical miles.

Fort Point lighthouse bearing N.E. ¼ N., distant 6¾ nautical miles.

Ocean House, bearing E. by N., distant 3¾ nautical miles.

Peak of Angel Island and Lime Point in range.

During thick and foggy weather a bell will be rung.

By order of the lighthouse board.

R. H. WYMAN,
Rear Admiral U. S. N., chairman.

Office of the lighthouse board, Washington, D. C., June 29, 1882.

FOURTH OF JULY AT TOLEDO, W. T.

(FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.)

CASTLE ROCK, July 9.

The steamer Toledo carried excursionists on the fourth between Freeport and Toledo. On Monday evening she arrived at Arkansaw landing and laid over night. The next morning a jolly party of Arkansans laden with baskets of provisions, boarded her, and at half past five the signal was given for the start. Landings were made all along the river and a large party was thus gathered.

At Toledo we expected to find a brass band and a procession, but the only band visible was one of siwashes squatted around a blanket, gambling for ponies. There was a sort of celebration prepared, at least a very good oration, but the picnic part, which had been prepared at home, was the best of all.

In the evening there was a grand display of fireworks—5 Roman candles, 2 sky rockets and 3 fizzles—and a ball in Kellogg's warehouse. This lasted till early morning, when the shrill whistle of the steamer, preparing to return, broke up the biggest celebration ever held in this section.

The Burns Acme Fruit Drier Co. is fully organized and prepared to furnish driers to all parties in Multnomah and Clackamas counties. This celebrated drier has superseded all others in California, and will do so in this state and Washington Territory when its advantages are known. Call and see it in operation. No shifting of the trays; perfect uniformity of heat; perfect control and no waste of heat. For county rights in this state and Washington Territory, and full particulars, call on C. Carmichael and A. Baker, 87 Alder street, and J. D. Knapp, 267 First street. Price of driers from $10 upwards.

Do you need a nice single-stone diamond ring—worth $50—for $20. Then go to Uncle Myers, 181 First street.

In presenting our Segars to the public, we direct attention to the following facts:

The reputation attained by our firm for our brands, in this and foreign countries, is superior to that of any other manufacturers in the United States. This has been secured after an experience of nearly 30 years in the manufacturing of Segars and manipulation of Tobaccos, and we assure the public that no pains will be spared to maintain this hard-earned reputation.

Our Segars are all MADE IN OUR OWN FACTORIES, and under our own immediate supervision. WE MAKE NO SEGARS IN TENEMENT HOUSES. We shall always use the best material the market affords. Our Segars will always be free from adulterations of any kind, and under OUR BRANDS the smoker may rely upon honest and acceptable goods.

THE SAME OLD TUNE.

The same old tune! She played it years ago—
The ancient "Maiden's Prayer"—and I know
She'll bang it out from early morn till noon—
The same old tune!

Time alters not. Her right hand skims light,
The left beats time in accents none too soft
I heard it first ten years ago last June—
The same old tune!

Lo! when shall come an answer to this "Prayer"
That [illegible] everywhere?
Oh! may it come [illegible] soon—
The same old tune!

DECISION IN U. S. DISTRICT COURT, BY DEADY, J.

U. S. District Court—District of Oregon.

[illegible] 1882

The United States v. G. W. Loftis. No 1284. Information for violation of §3893 of the R S.

PUBLICATION

(1). Warrant—A sealed letter deposited in the mail addressed to some one is not a writing or publication within the purview of the first clause of §3893, of the R S, "obscene [illegible] books, writings, etc., or other publication of an indecent character," non-mailable.

(2) Letter. A sealed letter is not within the prohibition of said §3893, however, indecent or obscene in its contents, but if there is any such delineation or language upon the envelope containing it, it thereby becomes non-mailable, and the person depositing it in the mail thereby commits a crime.

DEADY, J.

The defendant is accused by the information in this case of "the crime of depositing for mailing and delivery in the postoffice of the United States a publication of an indecent character and a letter containing indecent and scurrilous epithets contrary to § 3893 of the R. S.; committed by knowingly mailing at Rainier, in a sealed envelope, postage paid, and addressed to "Mr. Joleph Way Thayer, Oregon City, Oregon," a certain obscene and indecent writing and publication "in words and figures as therein set forth."

The defendant demurs to the information because it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a crime, and upon the argument thereof made the point, that however the act of the defendant may be characterized by the general charge in the information, its true character must be ascertained from the particular facts stated therein; and that it appeared therefrom that the alleged indecent "publication" was only a private, sealed letter and not a publication at all, or anything within the purview of the statute; and it was also suggested in support of the demurrer that the language contained in the letter however filthy, was not 'obscene, lewd or lascivious."

The legislation upon this subject, it appears, commenced with § 148 of the postoffice act, of July 8, 1872 (17 Stat. 302), which provided, "That no obscene book, pamphlet, picture, print or other publication of a vulgar or indecent character or any letter upon the envelope of which or postal card upon which scurrilous epithets may have been written or printed or disloyal devices printed or engraved shall be carried in the mail." By the act of March 3, 1873 (17 Stat. 599), said § 148 was amended so as to omit the word "vulgar" and all mention of "disloyal devices," and to include "lewd or lascivious" books, etc., as well as "obscene" ones; and a "paper" as well as a "picture or print;" and the word "indecent" was added to the word "scurrilous," in describing the epithets prohibited upon a postal card or the envelope of a letter.

A new clause was also added, prohibiting the transportation in the mails of any "article or thing designed or intended" to prevent conception or procure abortion, or "for any indecent or immoral use or nature," or any communication or notice giving any information where, how or of whom or by what means any such things may be obtained or made.

This section as thus amended became § 3893 of the R. S., which was again amended by the act of July 12, 1876 (19 stat. 90), so as to add the word "writing" to the category of non-mailable books etc., and in regard to such letters and postal cards substituted the following: —"and every letter upon the envelope of which or postal card upon which, indecent, obscene lewd, or lascivious epithets, terms or language may be written or printed" is hereby declared to be non-mailable matter.

The punishment for mailing such matter is a fine not less than $100 nor more than $3000 or imprisonment at hard labor not less than one nor more than 10 years or both.

It is admitted that the language used in this letter is indecent. Indeed it is grossly so. The term is said to signify more than indelicate and less than immodest—to mean something unfit for the eye or ear. Wor Dic. And I think it is obscene also. This latter word has a wide range in both the Latin and English language. It includes on the one hand what is merely inauspicious, foul or indecent and on the other what is immodest and calculated to excite impure emotions or desires. Wor Dic.

It is also admitted, that the case made in the information, does not come within the clause of the statute directed against letters eo nomine, but it is contended by the district attorney that the letter in question is a "writing" within the meaning of that term as used in the first clause of the section which reads—"Every obscene, lewd or lascivious book, pamphlet, picture, paper writing print or other publication of an indecent character," is declared non-mailable.

Speaking generally, this letter is a writing, but to bring it within this clause of the statute it must be also a "publication." This word "writing" occurs in an enumeration of things—books, pamphlets, pictures, prints and papers—which ex vi termini are prima facie publications.

The general phrase with which the enumeration ends—"or other publication of an indecent character"—impliedly asserts that the things before enumerated are publications. The expression John and James and other men is one in which by a necessary implication it is asserted that John and James are men.

A publication is something—as a book or print—which has been published—made public or known to the world. And a writing as well as a printing may be published. What constitutes a publication or a making public may be a question, and must generally depend upon the circumstances of each case. But a private letter sent by one individual to another in a sealed envelope, cannot be considered a "publication" within this statute.

But the fact, that the statute has expressly provided for the case of a "letter" in a separate clause, in which the offence that may be committed by means of it is confined to indecent, obscene, etc., language on the envelope in which it is enclosed, is conclusive to my mind that congress did not intend to include it in the term "writing," as used in the clause concerning obscene publications.

It never was the intention of the law to take cognizance of what passes between individuals in private communications under the sanctity and security of a seal. And probably the chief reason for making it a crime to put indecent or obscene delineations or language on the envelope enclosing such communications is to prevent the postoffice from being used as a means for committing cowardly and indecent assaults at a safe distance or anonymously upon the feelings and character of any one by the use of indecent or immoral and offensive epithets and suggestions openly addressed to him on the envelope of a letter or a postal card.

But what is said privately—within the envelope and under the seal—the statute does not notice. It could not well do so without establishing an espionage over private correspondence which would never be thought of in a free country.

As was said by Mr Justice Field in ex parte Jackson, 96 U S., "The difficulty attending the subject arises not from the want of power in congress to prescribe regulations, as to what shall constitute mail matter, but from the necessity of enforcing them consistently with rights reserved to the people, of far greater importance than the transportation of the mail."

This statute is largely preventive in its character. It defines non mailable matter by its external appearance when a letter or sealed package, and by its contents when not, and therefore open to inspection by the postoffice officials. But if it was intended that it should extend to the contents of a sealed letter, some provision would have been made for a legal examination when there was reason to believe that its contents were obnoxious to the law and its enforcement not left to the chance complaint of the person to whom it might be addressed.

But as the case stands, it is apparent that the matter to be excluded from the mails and which is made a crime to deposit therein, is such, that its illegal character is open to inspection and can be ascertained without breaking the seal of private correspondence.

Therefore, in the case of a letter unless it is non mailable by reason of something upon the outside of it or the envelope in which it is contained, it is mailable without reference to the character or morality of its contents.

And yet it is quite certain that the public good would be promoted and no private right injured by including such a case as this within the statute upon the complaint of the party injured, and thereby prevent the mails from being used as a comparatively safe means by one person to annoy and wound the feelings of another by applying to him in a letter indecent and obscene epithets or accusing him in gross and beastly language of criminal or immoral conduct.

The demurrer is sustained.

James F. Watson, for the plaintiff
George H. Williams and George Durham, for the defendant.

A CASE OF IMMERSION.

I heard yesterday from unquestionable authority, a good story of the Rev Thomas K. Beecher, which is quite too good for private circulation. When he first went to Elmira, a good many years ago, he was somewhat free and easy in his theology holding, as he still holds, that the life was more than the creed, and the deportment more than the dogma. One day a woman called and said she wanted to join his church.

"Very well," he said, "come in, glad to see you"

"But," she said, "I must be immersed"

"I can't duck you all over," he explained; "no dish big enough"

"Well," she repeated, in a troubled frame of mind. "I must be immersed all over, I have been reading the Bible, and I am sure the teaching is that we must be entirely immersed"

"Then go and join Brother Hodgson's church," he suggested, "they have a baptistry up there; and there isn't any vital difference between us and the Baptists"

"No," said she, "my friends are here in your church; I want to be with them"

He pondered over it awhile, and then said "See here, suppose you go up and see Brother Hodgson and tell him to immerse you so that you can come and join us."

So she went and spoke after that manner

"Did Mr. Beecher tell you to come up here for that?" asked the irate Hodgson in a loud voice.

She affirmed that such was his suggestion,

"Very well!" exclaimed the affronted Baptist, getting warmer and warmer as he thought of the highly audacious proposition. "Very well! Very well! You go back and tell Beecher that he's mistaken if he thinks I am going to do his dirty work."

The lady fled in terror. That evening her husband called on the Rev. Hodgson to demand satisfaction. "No, sir! I won't sit down!" he answered, as he came into the minister's presence, "did you speak of the immersion of my wife as dirty work? that is what I want to know!" and he slammed on the table and doubled up the two fingers of his right hand as if about to wring the clerical nose with them. Mr. Hodgson backed to the other corner of the room, near the open door, and explained that he meant no offense, he merely meant, etc, he did not intend, etc, in a Pickwickian sense, and for the dignity of his denomination, etc; but he would be most happy, etc.

"No! I'll be d—hanged if you do!" exclaimed the wrath stricken visitor, jamming the door with his fist. "You'll never put a teaspoonful of water on any of my family. And you indulge in any more sideways remarks and I'll 'dirty work' you!" And he slammed his hat down over his eyes, uttered a growl of unsatisfied anguish went home, and carried all his folks over to Beecher's church "dip or no dip," as he expressed it.—W. A. Croffut.

Spoiling Maud S.

Cleveland Herald

"I suppose Vanderbilt has a right to do as he pleases with his stock," said a gentleman who had lately spent a week or two in New York, and who takes an interest in fast horses to a Herald representative, "but the American public generally will be sorry to learn of the manner in which he is managing that great favorite, Maud S. I saw him driving her, not long since, and it was clearly evident that he was spoiling her. He drives her like a Jehu no matter what condition of the roads may be and pulls and hauls the mare about much as a hack-driver might be expected to do with a less royal team. I was sorry to see it. I was told that he was not only spoiling her gait but spoiling her temper as well, and you know what an excellent reputation Maud used to have on account of her kind disposition. I would rather see Vanderbilt stick to his railroad stocks."

Taking No Stock in Utopian Politics.

Washington Letter in the Augusta (Ga) Chronicle

I dare say it is a neat stroke of wit for Mr Cox to continue poking fun at Jay Hubbell and his political assessments but it is not unlike making faces at a fellow's sister when you cannot whip the fellow himself. We have passed the Utopian period of the republic and money will continue to be used by the party in power to maintain supremacy. The trouble with the democratic party is that it has nobody to levy upon for campaign purposes. The republicans backed by one hundred thousand federal office-holders the host of pensioners and the Grand Army of the Republic, are intrenched at a great advantage. It will take all the men we can rally and all the money we can raise to rout them out. The job cannot be accomplished by a funny resolution from Sam Cox.

FARM AND GARDEN

A Few Transient Notes on Agriculture in Oregon and California.

During the past year the Alta cheese factory in Marin county, Cal has received 1 [illegible] 310 pounds of milk from which were manufactured 124 871 pounds of cheese. The amount of finished article sold for $14,637 01. The manufacture of each pound of cheese involved the use of 9¼ pounds of milk. The average price obtained for the cheese during the year was 13¾ cents.

The next Ensilage congress will be held in the city of New York Tuesday July 24 1882. The object in making this announcement so early is that farmers may be prepared with accurate statements of their various operations by actual weight and measurement of the seed, fertilizers products and land, and be able to give for the common good exact results in a concise form.

Since Sunday the hop plantations of Kent and East Sussex have been visited with an attack of flies so virulent and general that there is reason to fear the destruction of the crop. For a week or a fortnight previous flies had made their appearance on the leaves and shoots in the gardens of the Weald and a portion of mid-Kent but only to the extent of three or four on a leaf. Since Sunday they have arrived in legions, and as many as forty or fifty may be counted on a leaf, while the area of attack has been widened until it pretty well comprises all East Kent the Weald and mid Kent. The same accounts come from parishes as widely separated as Biddenden and Bredbourne. Woodchurch and Charing.—St James Gazette June 1

California is a land of fruits yet the best grades are never cheap. Neither are vegetables comparatively cheap. The grower wants big money. If there is not a bonanza in fruit growing then the grower growls. And yet the money is there after all. And by no other method of tilling the ground can the owner get so much value per acre as by the cultivation of fruits and vegetables. It is a good year for fruit with all the drawbacks of frosts in the spring. Strawberries are disappearing or rather the second crop is beginning to take the place of the first. What shad is in the eastern markets strawberries are in this market. Neither is the best of fish or fruits. But coming early each is eagerly sought. Shad introduces the new fish season at the east. Strawberries introduce the new fruit season on this side of the country. They are the herald of something better. The purchaser buys a certain amount of water slightly acidulous with a little exterior color and smothering his berries in sugar, allows himself to be deceived in this that he has really a good thing in the way of fruit, and not a consumptive, watery apology for really good fruit. The strawberry as a herald of what is to come is useful. What it has heralded has already come.—S F Call

G W Fisk of the Pacific coast land bureau reports as the result of his observations during a late tour in the southern counties that only about half a crop can be expected from the San Joaquin country owing to the rains coming too late to be of effectual service. Los Angeles is reported as improving in looks and activity. The price of land has nearly doubled since a market was opened by the Southern Pacific railroad. The orange crop was all taken up and picked much earlier than usual and shipped east. Grapes and oranges now pay well. All the nurseries have been overtaxed and exhausted of planting trees, owing to more general demand. Pomona San Bernardino and Riverside are all prospering finely. Land with water facilities though uncultivated as in Riverside, 20 acre tracts, at $400 per acre. In answer to why is it worth so much, the statement is made that it yields $408 per acre in raisins. The railroad to San Diego is now nearly finished, running through a very pretty country down the San Margarita. When finished together with the road now about to be built from Santa Anna, and also connecting with the one from Mexico great results are expected. The city is looking much better. There is more business and considerable building of a substantial nature. National City a suburb of San Diego is growing amazingly. The mesa lands show large groves of olives oranges peaches figs grain and grasses. This county is surprising its own inhabitants in what it will do by proper cultivation of the soil. San Luis Obispo also has taken a jump ahead since the building of the narrow gauge railroad through its valley penning up the Arroyo Grande de Guadalupe and passing on to Santa Barbara county. The southern part of the Santa Clara valley is expected to suffer from short crops while the Pajaro valley at present is claimed to be looking finely.—S F Bulletin 24th
